Mrs. Bordelon,
Even though I still talk like you to Japan, I want you to know that your purpose hag'n't failed. After three weeks of practice I can now say "get" without drawing.
I hope all your other future
students will remember you with as much good things as I have.
Love,

Mrs. B. B.
This year has been one of the most enjoyable I have ever spent, thanks to you. Without your help I could never have been in Oklahoma or any other place. I have really had a good time going on trips with you and Charline and Jackie and all the kids in our class. We've had some wild times and I hope we can continue to be the best of friends.
I'll come by and visit you every day next year.
Be good and remember that without "Country Western" beer would taste lousy. Luck!

To my favorite teacher in my senior year.
Since you feel it an honor to write & tell me how I feel you have let us go to various activities out of school all of which I have enjoyed. If all teachers were as understanding as you perhaps there wouldn't be so many dropouts.
If they were as young maybe that was
Mrs. Bordelon,
You're a great person & teacher
I know all of your students are greatly appreciative of you. You

Mrs. B, Sorry our friendships was so rotten at the first of the year
 But near the end, it was really great.

Alma Mater

Words: 1960 Student Council

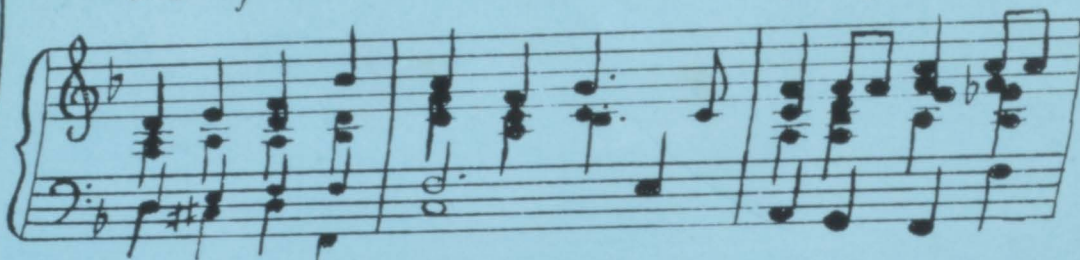

Music: Richard Jennings

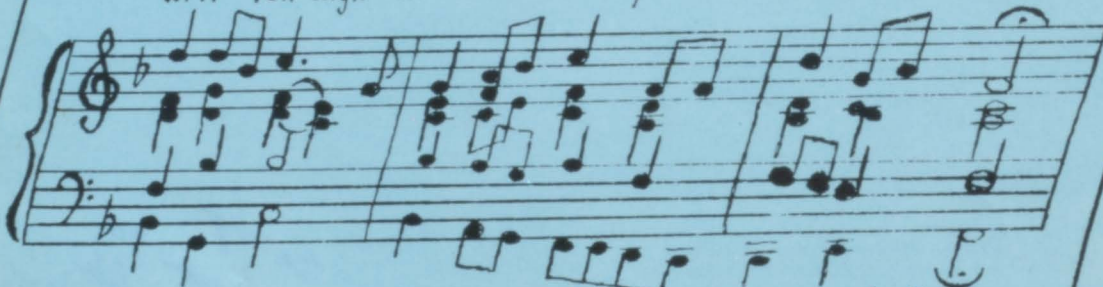

Hail! Alma Ma-ter, Knights so true, clothed in scar-let and royal blue. Our faith and love we pledge to thee, writ-ten high in lib-er-ty. Your laurels are vast and are sure as the dawn, we praise thee forever and ev-er, Woodlawn.

Hail! Alma Mater

Clyde Landry's fan club

A stylized musical note, suggested by the modern design on the main building, is presented on the cover and throughout the AC-COLADE to focus special attention on the theme for 1966—Woodlawn's Alma Mater.

Music for this hallowed song was written by band director Richard Jennings, and Woodlawn's first Student Council composed the lyrics. It was adopted and was ready for the opening day of school, September 6, 1960.

When each student enrolls here, he adopts the Alma Mater as his own song and cherishes it dearly. However, the use of it as the theme in this book of memories should endear it even more to the heart of each one who calls himself a Woodlawn Knight.

Knights So True,

"We are the Knights! What kinda' Knights? The Woodlawn Knights!" Well, what makes a knight? The classes unified are the backbone of the Knight.

Look at the seniors—the voice of the Knight. After spending three years at Woodlawn, the seniors are ready to face the world, ready to show everyone by their good examples the qualities of a knight.

The juniors are the heart of the Knight. A year of learning about their school has filled them with zeal for Woodlawn, extreme pride for their Alma Mater.

The sophomores are the young blood, the new ideas of the Knight. Just discovering knighthood, they are eager to join.

The clubs represent the spirit of the Knight. The Key Club and Z Club are the helping hands; Safety Council, the concern for others; Student Council, the leadership; National Honor Society, the quest for knowledge; Quill and Scroll, the imagination; Lancerettes, the enthusiasm; Band, the talent; the football team, the strength.

On the football field, on any field of conquest, the strength and stamina of the valiant Knight makes him victorious. Service, obedience, honesty, loyalty, courtesy, a quest for knowledge—these make the "Knight so true."

In the final moments before the Airline game, the Knights huddled around the coaches for words of encouragement.

Keeping in step with the rhythm of the band, the cheerleaders dance to the tune of the "Stripper."

Woodlawn students find time during their lunch shift to take a rest from the routine of school work and to visit with friends.

Honor Society and Quill and Scroll inductions are held each spring.

Red and blue pompons atop cheerleader megaphones give evidence that a pep rally is under way.

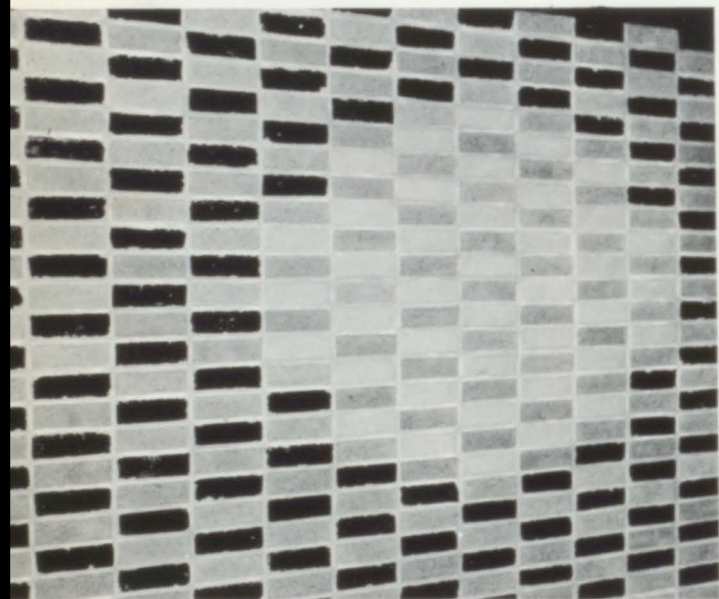

Well Mrs. Bordelon we've made it through our 2nd year together. Now I don't know, but we did. We had some really memorable experiences the past 2 years that I'll never forget. I guess sometimes we weren't the best of friends, but I did most of the time we were. I'll never forget you, "Bordey", and all of our fun times in class. Stay sweet & have a real swingin' summer.

Clothed In Scarlet And Royal Blue.

Right: WHS claims America's best high school javelin thrower as Terry Bradshaw broke the national record several times this year. His best throw was 243' 7" in the Indian Relays on April 1, 1966. The old record had been 232' 9".

Below: Interesting patterns of glazed brick, including red and blue, decorate the school's front entrance. Since these unusual designs are seen daily by most students, they too deserve a place in the students' memories of Woodlawn.

New costumes of royal blue skirts with white blazers added appeal to the appearance of the Girls' Choir.

Mrs. Bordeleon, you are one of my favorite teachers in Woodlawn High School. I have learned how give speeches in my other classes better since I have been taking Speech I. Sr. 67

Mr. Earl Turner views the school flag which was planned and designed as a result of a Student Council sponsored contest. Displaying the flag for inspection are Mr. Richard Priddy, Council Advisor; Shirley Gunwald, Flag Committee chairman; and Ronald Carlson, Student Council President.

Our Faith And Love
We Pledge To Thee,

Above: Given to him by loyal Knights, Coach Lee Hedges displayed the ball that brought the first victory over Byrd.

Above: Woodlawn has had only six classes to wear this symbol of school loyalty, but its wearers have already scattered around the world. Knights who wear this class ring carry with them a constant reminder of their Alma Mater.

Woodlawn! We give you ourselves! To make you great has been our goal in the past and you, in turn, have given us a desire to build for ourselves a great future. We've made you a leader because you made us leaders. We've given you victories; you have made us victors.

We feel a surge of pride, of power when your flag is carried onto the field. We will wear the symbol of our loyalty to you—the class ring—for many years. We will remember the good times, the learning times, the winning times—forever.

Below: Diane Arnold, responsible for this collection of books for servicemen in Viet Nam, told Johnny Bean and George Ramsey how many books the students added to the box.

Quiet moments for meditation are available for any students who choose to share them. Chapel, a short voluntary devotional period, is held each Wednesday at an early hour before the school day begins.

Written High In Liberty.

What makes life most meaningful? First, man needs faith in something beyond himself. Second, he must owe loyalty to someone besides himself. These two basic needs make man a superior being. Our generation can begin to fulfill those needs in school.

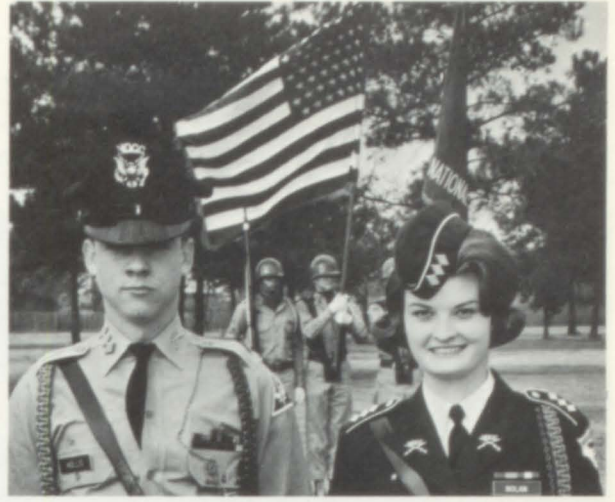

Chapel gives the opportunity to exercise the priceless freedom of religion. National Defense Cadet Corps teaches reverence for the country's past, so we can develop firm belief in its future.

At Woodlawn we discover our rights to life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness as citizens of a great country. We learn how best to use our privileges. We become willing to defend them. In chapel, in corps, in the classroom, Woodlawn gives us the perspective of freedom.

Left: School assemblies, such as this sophomore orientation program, allow students to demonstrate devotion to their country by reciting the "Pledge of Allegiance."

NDCC companies stand prepared to participate in one of the weekly parades held on the South Forty.

Cadet Colonel David Hollis and Sponsor Colonel Kay Nolan head the National Defense Cadet Corps.

Woodlawn's Lancer Drill Team was named "Runner-up" in the annual city-wide competition.

Your Laurels Are Vast

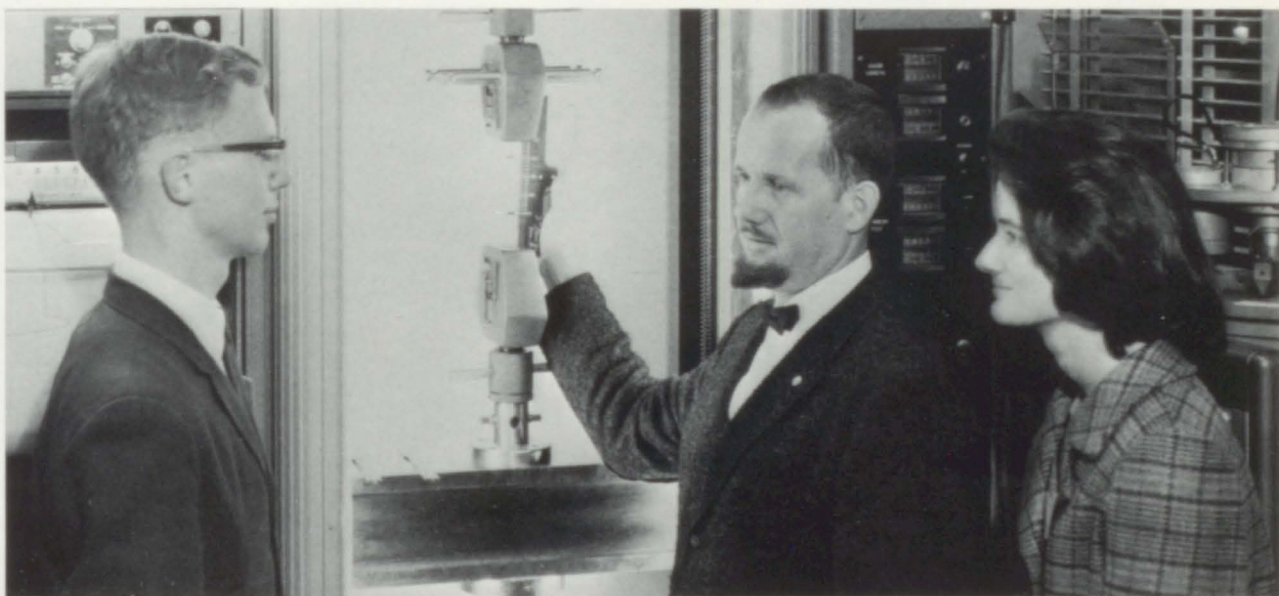

Triumphant moments in the school's history were recalled as Russell Evans, senior halfback, "shows off" a championship football trophy to senior classmates, Cecilia Brown and Becky Morris.

What are Woodlawn's laurels? Pause at the trophy cases for a few minutes. That's something we seldom have time for. Oh, we glance at the cases on our way to gym or an assembly, but not many of us could tell another what the shelves contain.

SMU cheerleading ribbons, pictures of football heroes, two District 1-AAA football championship awards, track trophies, publication plaques, 4-H awards and debate trophies. The trophies fill four cases now; when six more years have passed the cases may overflow. These awards symbolize our tradition—Victory!

Right: Woodlawn students continued to win honors with the announcement that seniors Jimmy Holland, Kitty Collins, and Charles Tucker had been named National Merit Scholarship Finalists. Below: Frances Lowe is the first Woodlawn graduate to do her student teaching at her Alma Mater.

Stanley Ward's clathrates project won him the top chemistry award at the State Science Fair last spring. His prize, awarded by Southern Bell Telephone Company, was a trip to the Bell Laboratories in New Jersey. Stanley and his teacher, Miss Marie Maranto, heard Mr. R. P. Wentz of Bell's Research and Development Department explain the uses of one of the machines.

And Are Sure As The Dawn,

Woodlawn's most steadfast, enduring laurels won't be found in the trophy cases. We her students, her alumni, are Woodlawn's distinction. Those people of Woodlawn's past are lasting trophies to her honor; they have taken their places as educated citizens—teachers, housewives, soldiers, or secretaries. They represent WHS as much as do we, the student body of 1966, as will the student body of 2066.

Each year Woodlawn, reborn in the beginning sophomores, developed in the juniors, is then matured as the seniors graduate. As surely as the sun rises on each new day, this cycle of birth and maturity will go on. And in so doing, Woodlawn will continue as sure as the dawn.

Left: Sophomores, having first-day-of-school jitters, studied their schedules to be sure that they would go in the right direction to locate their next class.

To the seniors clad in blue, graduation ends twelve happy years but also begins a life filled with dreams.

WHS English Courses Spark Great Interest

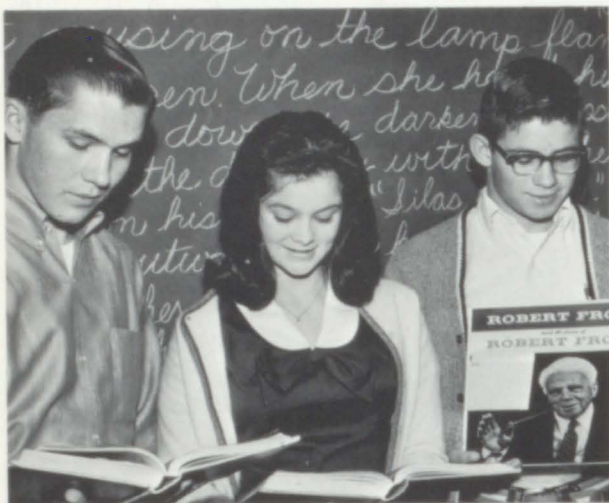

Woodlawn's English instructors indicate that discussion is an effective way to spark learning in their classes. As an example, English IV creates a need for discussion as classes study such things as the Shakespearean play Macbeth. To enrich the discussion of this play, one teacher had students illustrate some scenes and another had groups act out different parts of it.

Special projects, field trips, team teaching, play productions, and original compositions—all relating to previous discussion—enlivened numerous classes this year.

One group found a study of ancient historical events in literature much easier when they could view a scale model of the Stone Hinge as a student reported on it. Book reports, which are usually very routine, created new interest when book scenes were acted out by groups of three. The study of drama in class became more appealing after teachers encouraged student attendance at local theatre productions. As some groups studied composition, they wrote their own short stories; thus those with a creative nature were encouraged.

Three units of English are required for graduation. Speech or Business English may be substituted for the fourth one. With so many methods of teaching employed in the English department, Woodlawn students have opportunity for interesting learning while getting the necessary credits.

Opposite Page: Pam Fuller adds material to her notebook as her English IV teacher, Mrs. Carolyn Smith, lectures about the parts of speech. Below: Becky Wallace and Dennis Curry learn to use an outline for a system of note taking during class discussions as Mrs. Ferguson shows an example.

Russell Wilks and Sally Mackey "get into the act" as they construct a bulletin board for English III. Mrs. Greene's classes were studying composition.

Being required for graduation, American History is the social studies course most often taken by Woodlawn students. Eddie Marks listens to Mr. Priddy lecture about the American nation as Johnny Lewter takes notes.

Social Studies Taught By Various Methods

During his three years at Woodlawn, every student completes at least one social studies course. Civics and American History are required for graduation.

American History, General History and World Geography inform the student of the cultural and physical development of the world. Civics and Economics and American Government teach the student more about his duties as an American citizen.

Social studies teachers appeal to students in many ways. One Civics teacher had students pretend to buy and sell shares of stock; an American History teacher used colored slides he had taken; a World Geography instructor encouraged foreign correspondence. All teachers use class discussion and lecture.

World Geography keeps the student abreast of the constant geographical changes taking place in our modern world. "Yes, there are Asiatic mountain ranges," answers Miss Rhodes to Terry Bradshaw's question.

Kathy Pigott and Craig Marlow read about Woodrow Wilson and his "New Freedom" in American History.

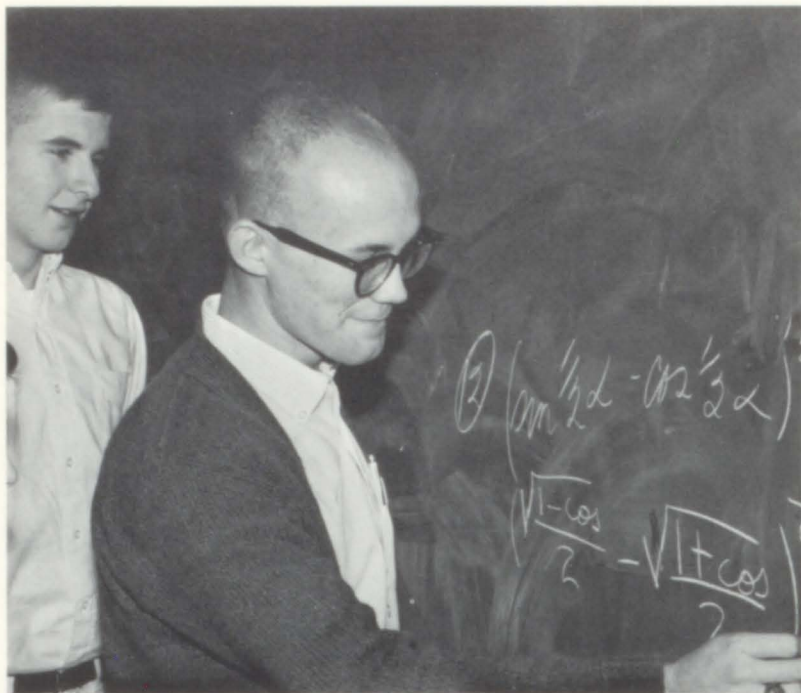

"Labor relations are definitely a major problem today," says Dale Davison in an Economics speech.

Current events play an important role in the study of Civics. Becky Wallace shows Dick Thompson the territory of North Viet Nam.

The ability to draw maps is helpful to the General History student. Glenda Lena and Elizabeth Gains check their maps of Germany.

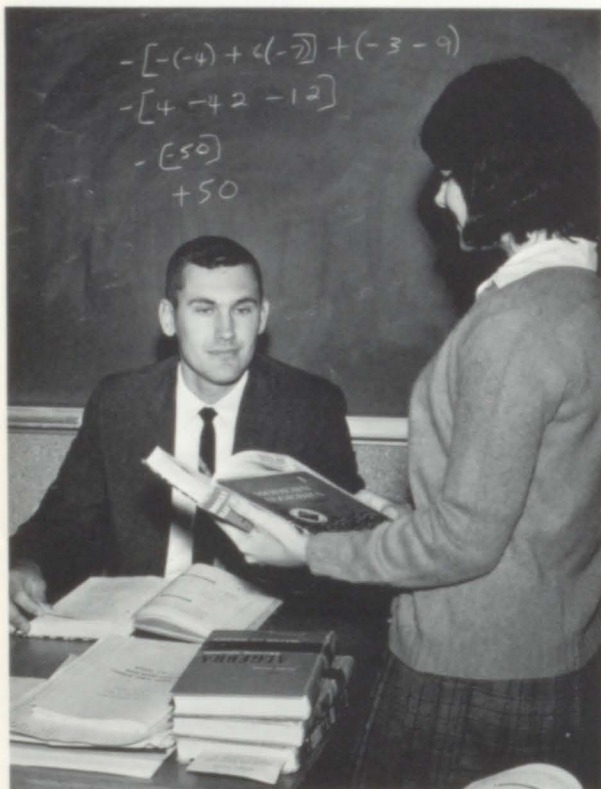

Advanced Math is the study of trigonometric functions and their relations. Jimmy Holland uses one of the formulae studied as Burke Robinette makes sure the proper steps are used for the proof.

In General Math, Pam Fuqua helps Jerry Antee make a bulletin board illustrating different triangles.

Ten Math Instructors Teach Six Courses

Mr. Dunn, an Algebra I teacher, gives Susan Stuart help with a lesson on signed numbers.

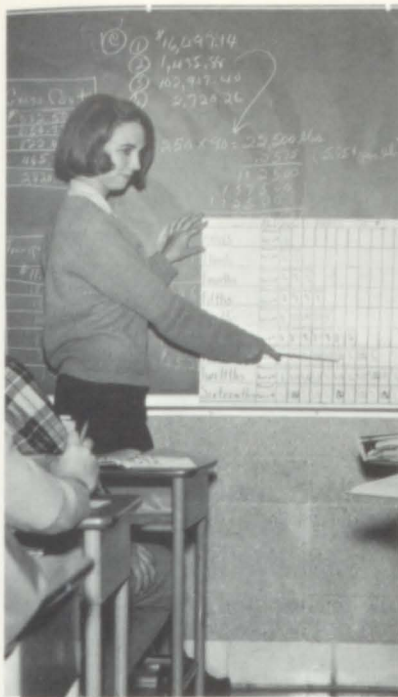

With 10 faculty members, the WHS Math Department offers every fundamental math course necessary for college bound or vocation bound students. Two math credits are required for graduation.

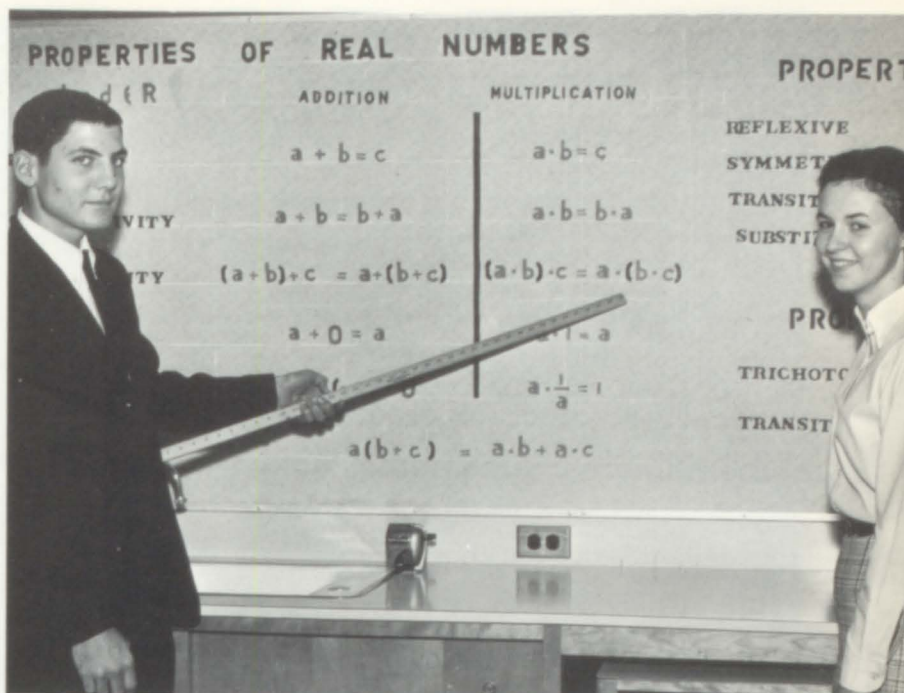

For the non-college bound student General Math and Business Math round out his basic math needs. They enable him to go into business and to carry on his financial needs. For the college bound student there is the math curriculum starting with Algebra I and going on into Geometry, Algebra II, and finally Advanced Math. After graduation he will have the necessary requirements to enter any college or university.

New equipment aided the instructors in streamlining the teaching of math this year. A new modern algebra text using a completely different approach was used as well as a new geometry book featuring set theory. A time-saving device, a coordinate graph, was employed by Algebra I teachers to give students a more accurate picture of a graph.

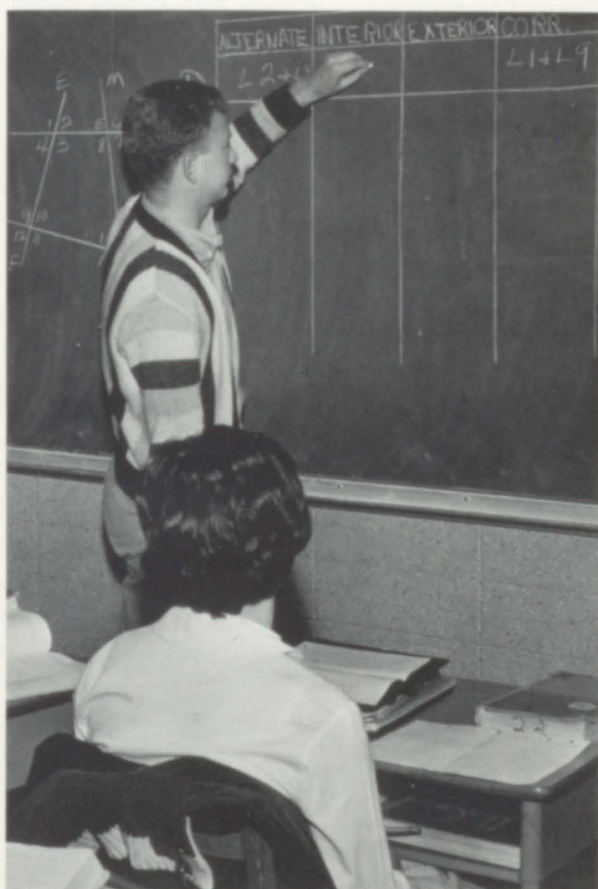

Woodlawn's ten math instructors feel that best results are obtained by demonstrations, followed by directed study and drill.

Knowing the properties of real numbers and their application is an important part of Algebra II. Desmond Sprawls discusses with June Flowers the property of associativity in Mr. McLain's class.

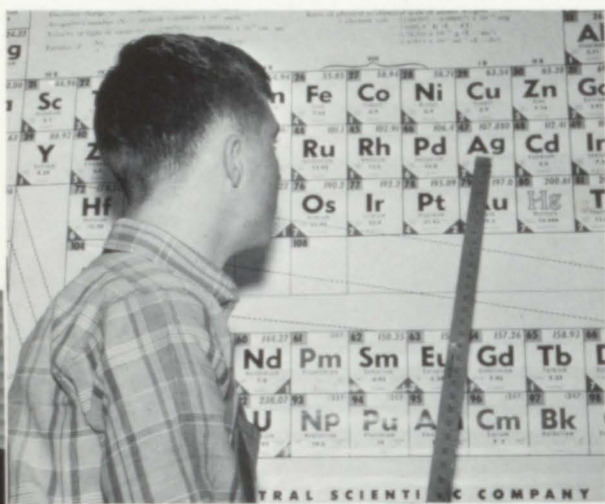

Left: Gary Chatelain constructs a chart labeling the angles in the diagram on the board. Geometry teaches a student to reason inductively. Bottom: Debbye Whitney listens to her Algebra II teacher, Mrs. Sullivan, as she explains algebraic proofs which are required in higher mathematics.

Above: Diana Taylor and Jeanie Patterson classify leaves as Richard Gifford files them. The Herbarium collection was a term project for biology students.

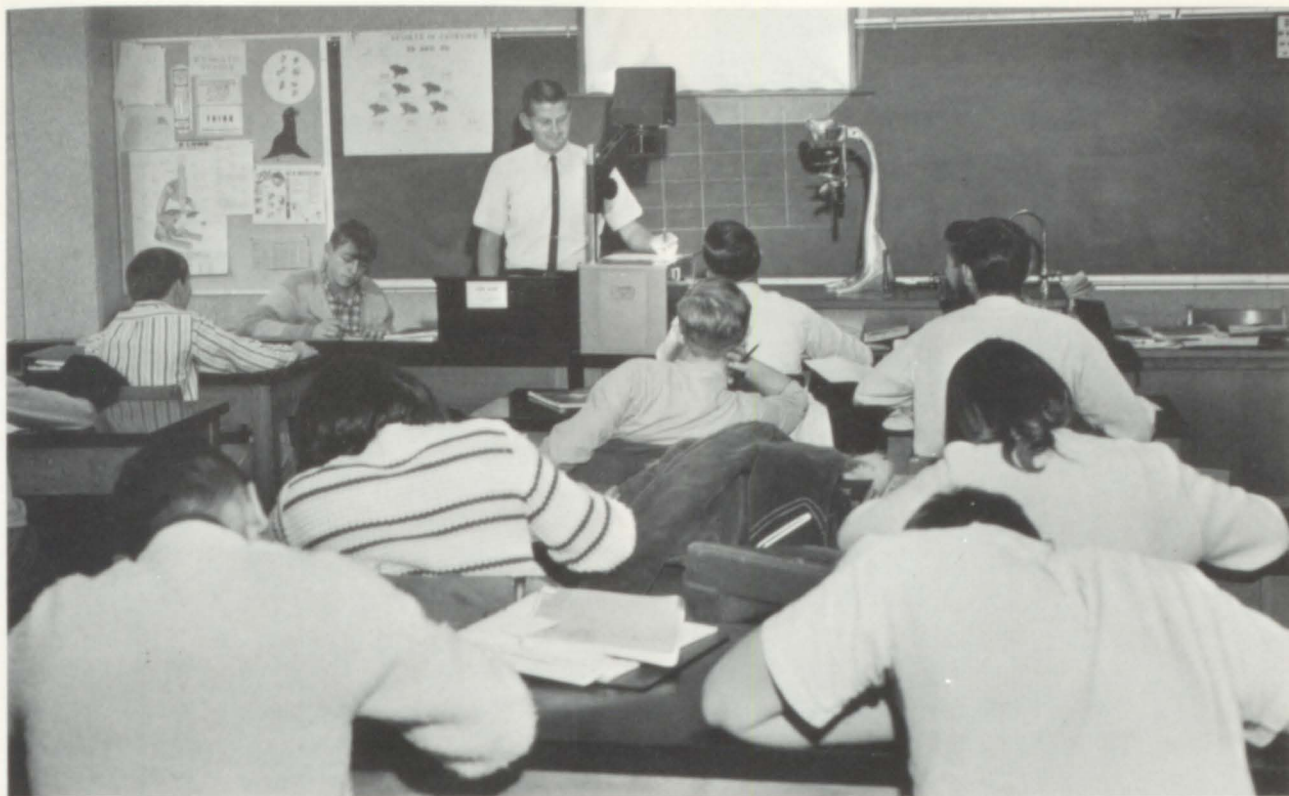

Below: In Chemistry, Rayford Carnline locates the forty-seventh element silver on the Periodic Table.

Above: Mr. White does an experiment on uniformly accelerated motion as his Physics students watch.

Below: Lowell Runyan discusses with Ronald Carter the use of potassium chlorate as an oxidizing agent with zinc.

Mr. Carson's Biology class takes notes as he uses the over-head projector to explain a genetics problem.

Science Teachers Get New Equipment

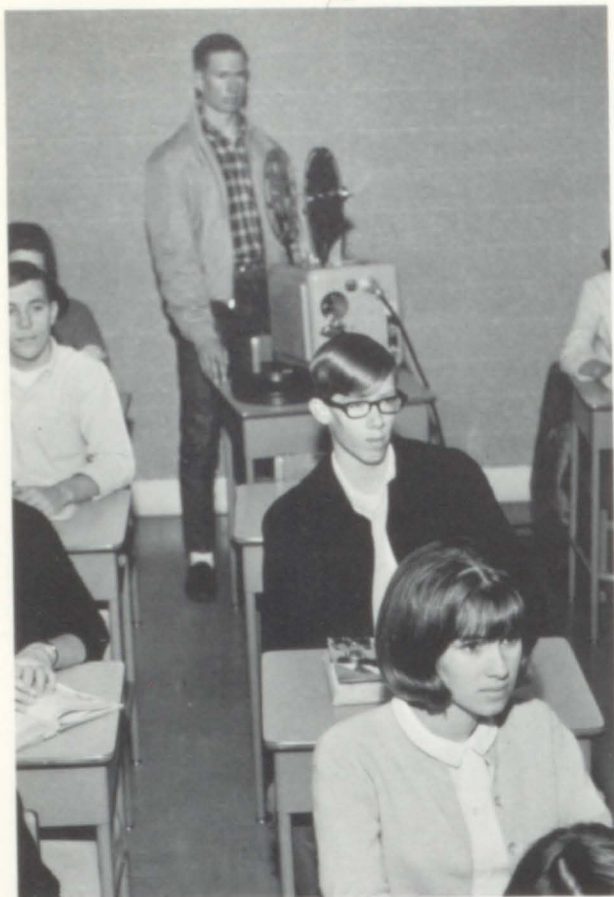

Fascination and intrigue make the science courses a pleasure to take. Dissections, projects, and lab experiments make the learning a little more appealing to the student. From the four courses offered only two credits are required.

The study of all the sciences keeps the General Science student well occupied. The Biology student is concerned with the fundamental properties of life and functions of organisms. Chemistry students absorb, investigate, and learn some of the fundamentals of elementary chemistry. Learning formulae and how to use them help the Physics student in the study of matter and energy.

This year the WHS Science Department received some new equipment. A gyroscope, spectroscope, and a Van de Graff generator were put to good use by the physics classes. Biology teachers were relieved of much blackboard writing with the use of an over-head projector.

Under the watchful eye of Mr. Fowler, Betty Hyde explains to her General Science class the earth's different positions during its rotation about the sun.

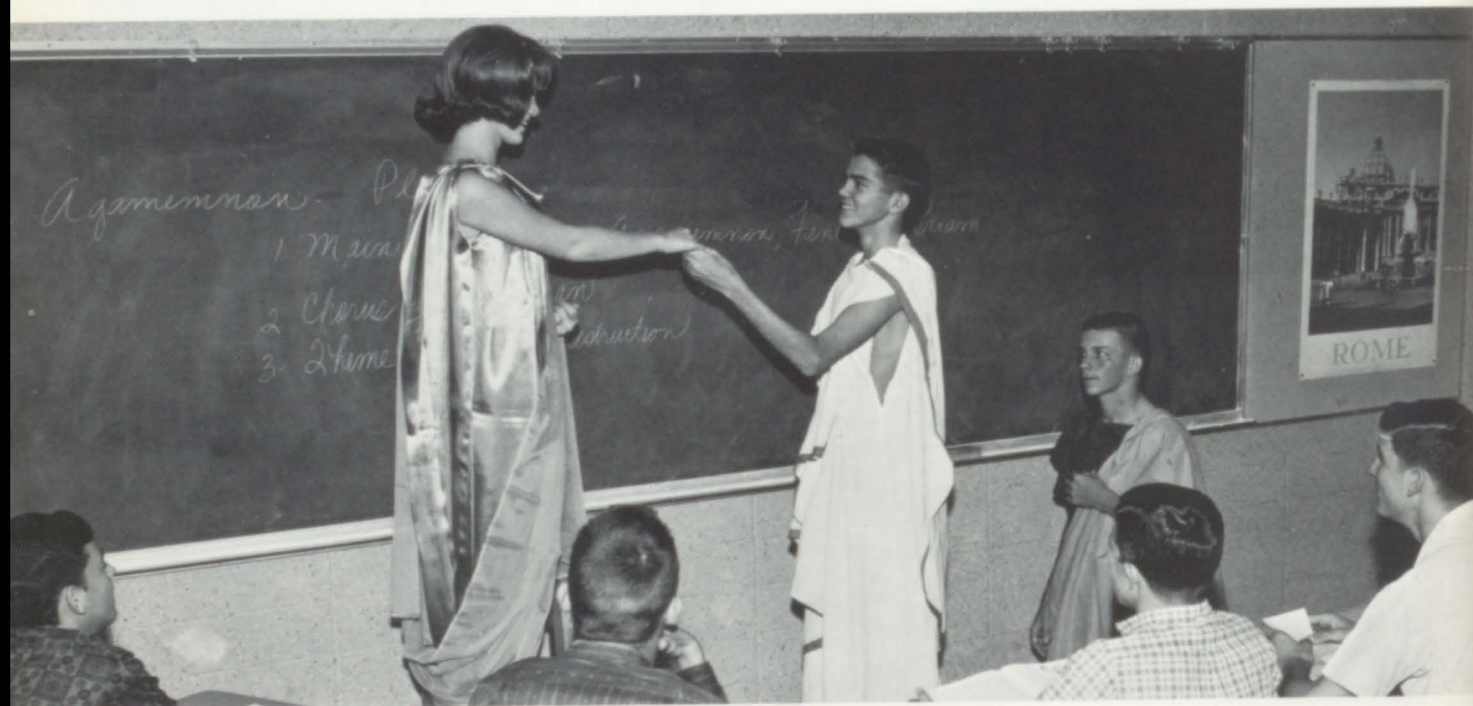

Didn't learn anything

Above: Debbye Whitney and Julie Kessler, using the new language laboratory, listen to the recordings which are played in their second year French class.

Left: Spanish I students watch films to grasp the sound of the language. In this film, "Glimpses of Toledo and Madrid," they learned about Spain.

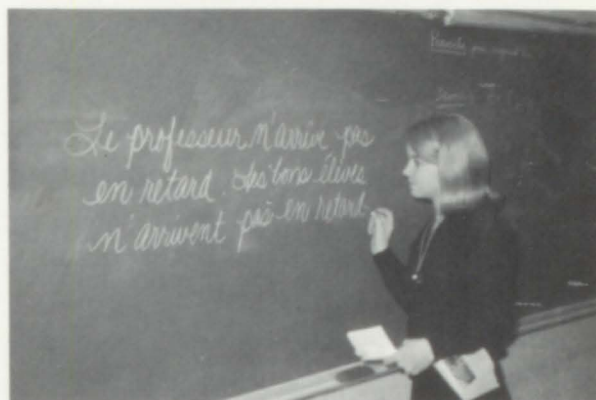

Latin II students Margaret Fory, Doug Rimmer, and Steve Ferguson re-enact a portion of "Athens." The class discovered that play acting helped them to understand more thoroughly the meaning of the story.

Left: Danny Kelly and Patsy Hollowell, Speech II students beginning preparations for a play for the NDCC carnival, demonstrate the use of make-up.

Below: "Le professeur n'arrive pas" writes Helen Agotta on the board from her French I homework so that her class can help her check it.

WHS Students Use Language Laboratory

Below: Latin I includes geography lessons, so Mike Pennywell shows the location of Rome.

Communication plays a tremendous part in our lives. Woodlawn now offers its students four communication courses—Latin, French, Spanish, and Speech.

One who follows Latin finds a solid foundation on which to build a cultural heritage—both in literature and grammar. There are now six Latin classes.

The French classes have made great use of the Language Laboratory. Having individual earphones makes it much easier for the student to listen and to understand the French recordings.

Oral drill helps Spanish students to speak fluently. If a student so desires to further himself in this course, there are many vocational fields which he may enter.

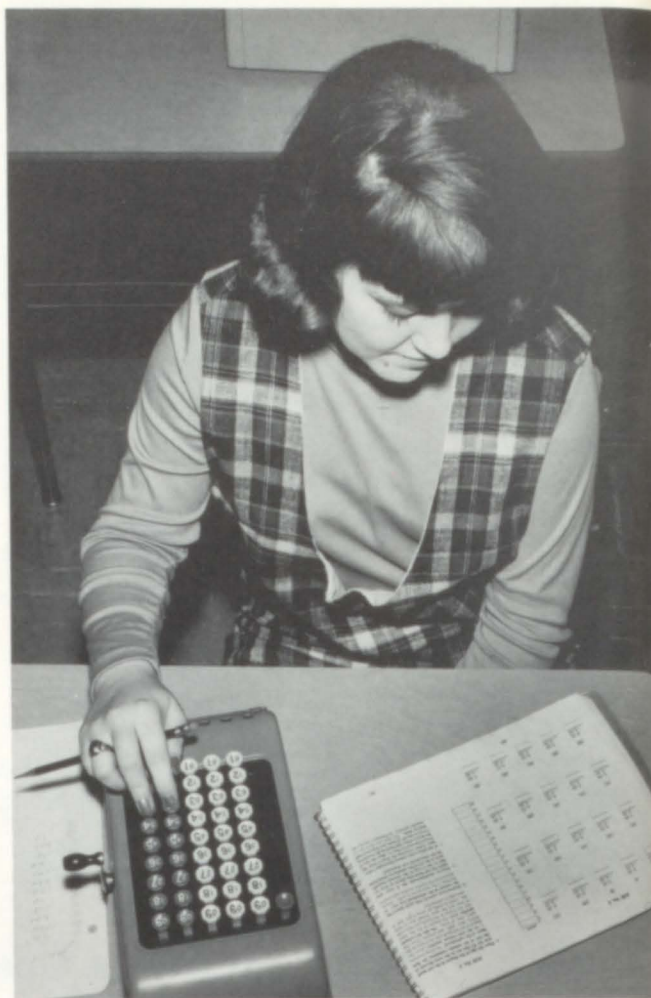

The Speech department helps a student become aware of the big part communication plays in our world. Woodlawn's six speech classes give each student the opportunity to broaden himself for the future.

Business Department Has Twelve Typing Classes

With a staff of seven teachers, the business department is equipped to prepare Woodlawn students for a business career. Of the six courses offered, typing attracts the largest number of pupils. Typing is a pre-requisite for Shorthand II and Clerical Office Practice, but many take it for personal use only.

Shorthand I is the beginning of study in advanced business. This course offers a complete study of Gregg shorthand with a student writing from 60 to 80 words per minute upon completion. This year the Shorthand II girls took a field trip to United Gas which helped to emphasize to them the importance of thorough training.

Clerical Office Practice, through individual work trains a student in the skillful use of several common business machines. The six classes of bookkeeping teach students how to keep a simple set of books without further training. Business English acquaints one with details of letter writing and business communications. If a senior is not going to college, he may finish his senior year with Business English.

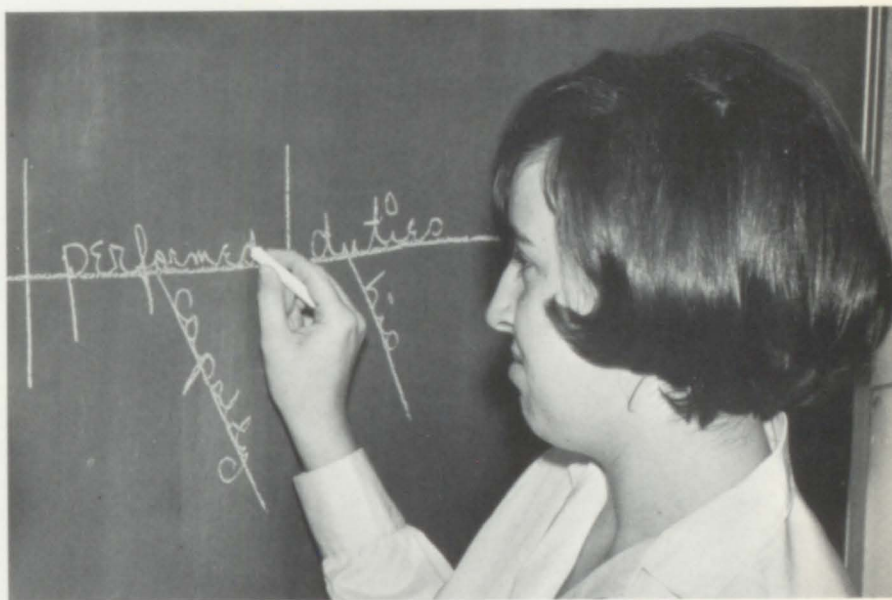

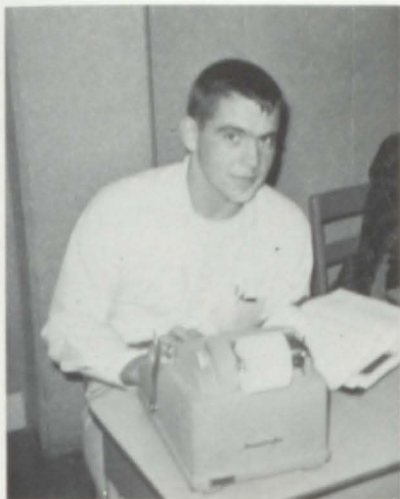

Above: The photographer took a peek into this fifth period class as the students were busy working on their accuracy during a timed writing.

Left: Connie Bailey (front) and Esther Roberts realize that Shorthand I becomes more complicated as they begin to take dictation, although they are writing 60 words a minute.

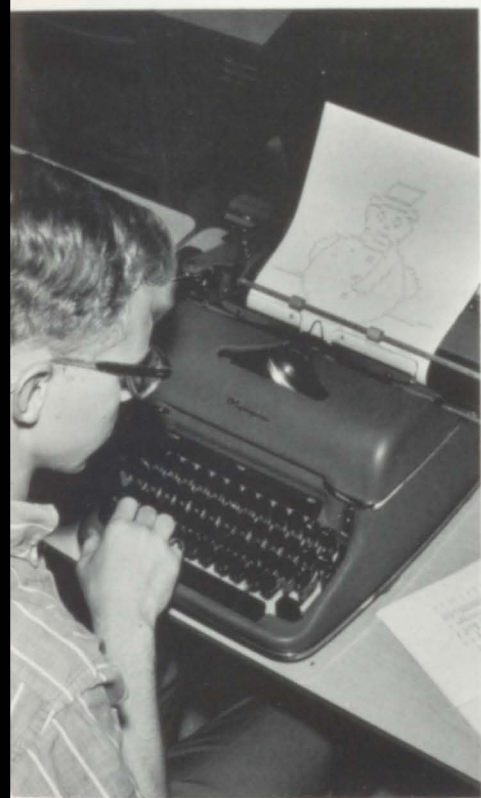

Left: Dianne Feazel finds working with the comptometer quite interesting. All the girls in her office practice class use it.

Right: Rene Hargis received advice from her bookkeeping teacher, Mr. Sanders, as she corrected her accounts receivable.

Below: Bookkeeping involves hours of addition and subtraction. Donnie Baughman used the adding machine to total his columns.

Above: Kathy Johnston, a Business English student, finds that diagramming helps in learning the parts of speech. Left: Using a typing mystery, Stanley Ward creates a snowman. Teachers use these pictures as a change of pace.

Top: Janet Smith, Jan Strong, and Linda Tullos scan some material on problem solving provided them in Home and Family Living. This was a part of their unit on maturity.

Right: Woodlawn's art students had the rare opportunity to see the world famous painter Ryukyu Saito give a demonstration on Japanese Ink Painting which emphasizes the importance of various brush techniques.

Art Classes Host World Famous Painter

Below: Rebecca Cole sculpts a horse and gets it ready for the kiln.

Expanded interests help to make well-rounded people, so a few elective courses in a school curriculum add variety to a student's day. These electives, not required for graduation, enable the student to choose subjects which produce skills that are put to use in later life.

Woodwork, Graphic Arts, and General Metals help prepare the student for an actual trade profession. Self-expression and creativeness are developed in Music and Art courses. Many of the decorations seen at school functions are produced by the art department.

Mechanical Drawing and Electronics give the student an adequate background for college work. Since electronics is the basis of all mechanization, this course prepares people for unlimited vocational opportunities.

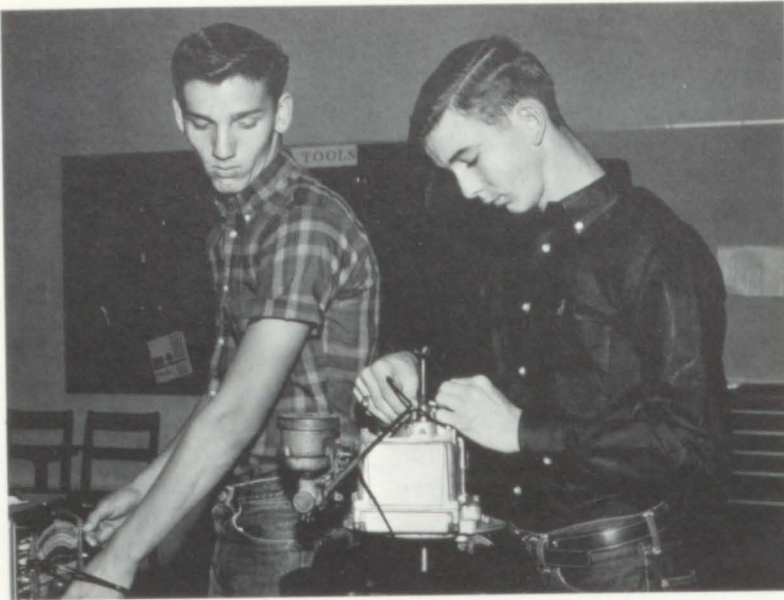

Agriculture and Home Economics teach the student the basic principles of farm and home management.

Home Economics introduces many skills to the students. Carolyn Pugh, Bobbie Hann, Ilean Brewer, and Melba Toms learn a few of the fundamentals of planning and preparing a well-balanced meal.

Susie Womack, Linda Slay, Linda Crager, and Nancy Nix, wearing the suits that they made for Homecoming, found that Home Ec. III helped them in sewing, as they made two tailored garments.

Left: Butch Ebarb checks the capacity of a condenser on a Briggs and Stratton four cycle engine as Bobby Mothershed makes sure the connections are good.

Below: Coach Adcox gives Donnie Ritchie and Reecie Robinson, two Driver Education students, pointers on the care of the automobile.

Below: Mechanical Drawing II, the study of Architecture, keeps Robbie Linn occupied as he finishes his layout of house plans.

Mr. W. G. Young, Agriculture instructor and advisor to the FFA, watches as David Judd indicates the grading points of dairy cattle while Jerry Wall, Alton Smith, and Arthur Clingman gain skill and experience in the judging of livestock.

Electronics Course Added To WHS Electives

A DE student not only receives textbook knowledge but also on-the-job training. Wayne Medlin learned the tricks of the trade as a jeweler's stock boy.

Using the electronics equipment are Chuck Smith and Doug Richie. This new course teaches the basics of circuitry, vacuum tubes, and resistors.

Student Life

Student Life At Woodlawn High Combines Studying, Planning, Competing, Relaxing

Pros and Cons of teenage driving was the topic of a bulletin board made by Miss Bobbitt's classes.

In the course of a school term, students have opportunities to develop each facet of their lives. School is mainly a place for gaining knowledge, and that the Woodlawn Knights accomplish. Yet, knowledge means more than learning from a textbook. It means competing, celebrating, winning, losing, crying, laughing, campaigning, working, and sharing.

This section on student life shows many of the ways in which a Woodlawnner achieves a complete education as he participates in various school activities and prepares himself for the world of tomorrow.

During their time in the lab, Sonny Wilson, Danny Dean, and Billy Piccolo work to evaporate a hydrate.

Left: In and out of the office pass many students. Counselors Wayne Hennigan and Mrs. Randle Geisler answered questions on a busy day.

After having been presented at the morning pep rally, Woodlawn's newest mascot appeared at the game that night. Former WHS cheerleaders, Brenda Boyette Laird and Judy Cole, (both standing) replaced the girls who were in the Homecoming court.

Below: After lunch, Stanley Ward and Susie Simmons share the sunshine and a chat in the quadrangle.

Top: The usual hand drills performed by the Lancerettes at all pep rallies seemed to bring on a special air of excitement during the week of state play-offs.

Top: Woodlawn fans were excited the night the scoreboard read 13-2 in favor of WHS over Terrebonne. This was our first playoff victory.

Bottom: Representatives from both Fair Park and Byrd came to the Castle on the day of the Woodlawn-Sulphur game and brought good wishes.

Bottom: Hollering, feet-stomping, and hand clapping are familiar sounds of a pep rally. These added excitement for the Woodlawn-Sulphur game.

"Sweep State" Was Theme For Playoffs

Woodlawn's football team made history this year by making their first bid for the AAA championship in the state of Louisiana. Two play-off victories over Terrebonne and Lafayette advanced them to the final game with Sulphur on December 17, 1965.

The days before those play-off games were full of excitement as students sought to boost the spirit of the Knights.

In recalling those days, Woodlawners will remember . . . special car stickers . . . giant-sized ribbons and posters . . . decorated ties and sneakers . . . a breakfast for the players . . . Coach Appreciation Day . . . marvelous pep rallies . . . good-will ambassadors from Fair Park and Byrd . . . clever slogans . . . telegrams from well wishers . . . the trip to Lafayette . . . the special State Week and the extra-special pep rally before the Sulphur game.

Above: "Something" or "someone" caught Terry Bradshaw's eye as the players boarded the chartered bus bound for the state play-off game in Lafayette.

Giant-sized posters lining the walls gave evidence that Woodlawn had plenty to boast about as the Mighty Knights entered the state finals.

A cowboy and a viking—symbols of good luck in the past—were used in the state play-off pep rally with the hopes of the same good fortune.

To get the work done, all girls' gym classes helped to make the flowers for the homecoming festivities.

Lancerettes Give Salute To Faculty And Student Body In Special Half-Time Program

A salute to Woodlawn students was given at the Airline game as the Lancerettes spelled out WHS.

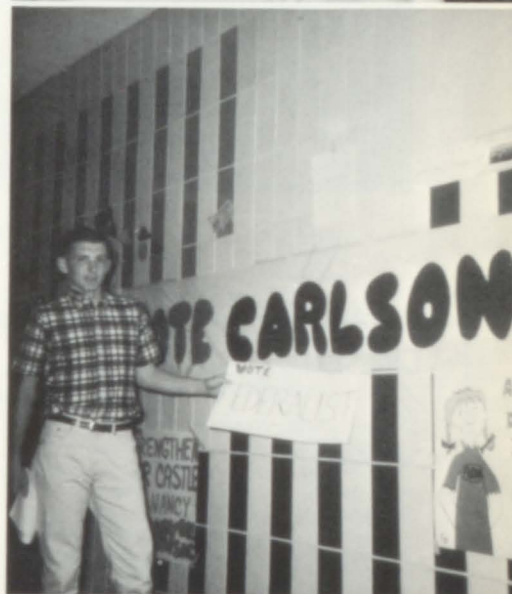

Hungry students spend a portion of each day "just waitin" in the cafeteria line. Long lines may be seen between 11:15 and 1:00 daily.

Student Council Greets New Pupils

"This is the gym, and that's the armory." So goes the conversation between an appointed student and a new Woodlawn. This year the "Knights of the Round Table" organized a "New People Committee" which welcomed new students by selecting a committee member of the same age to show the new student around the Woodlawn campus.

During Shreveport Beautification Week Woodlawn's Student Council, along with those of other Shreveport Schools, helped to put "Operation Big Sweep" into effect. Around thirty students from WHS toured the streets of this district gathering litter in an effort to improve conditions.

The cleanliness campaign carried over to the school campus in a "Clean-up Woodlawn" campaign. With the idea of getting the student's attention, a trash can was outfitted with a basketball goal and a sign to remind students of the objective.

Two of the biggest events at Woodlawn during any year are the Homecoming Dance and the Knights' Ball. The Student Council is in charge of decorating for the dances and, along with that responsibility, goes that of selecting a theme. This year's theme of the Homecoming Dance was "Knight of Memories," and of the Knights' Ball, "Castles in the Sky."

Mr. Richard Priddy is in his third year of sponsorship of Student Council activities.

Ronald Carlson was Master of Ceremonies at the Homecoming Dance following our win over Minden.

Linda Slay and Ronald Carlson serve Christmas refreshments to Mr. Dunn and Mrs. Dear.

Senior Jimmy Buckner, Chairman of the New People Committee, is responsible for showing or finding someone to show new students around the WHS campus, as he did for Nancy Garrett, a new student who transferred from Byrd.

Future Teachers Host District Workshop

Playing dodge ball and grading papers are all in a day's work when Future Teachers of America members practice teach. Elementary school teachers volunteer to let FTA'ers observe in their classrooms one day each spring. In this way, members learn whether they really want to teach.

Programs this year included a film illustrated talk by Miss Sylvia Speer about her six week stay in Hawaii last summer. Frances Lowe, a WHS student teacher, spoke at one meeting on what to expect from college.

On Saturday, February 5, 1966, Woodlawn's Roscoe H. White FTA Chapter was host at a district FTA workshop.

Kay King, Knight Lights' Editor for the Shreveport Journal, displays the article announcing her appointment.

Editorial Staff

Nine could be considered the magic number for this year's Herald Editorial Staff because the nine editors produced nine papers.

Through editorials on cheating, littering, carelessness, and lack of support of school-sponsored programs, the staff attempted to make students aware of the usual high school faults and offer, in part, a solution to them. Editors are chosen in the spring of the year. To be eligible for membership on the staff, students must have had one year of journalism, a "C" average, and be approved by the newspaper advisor.

Editor-in-Chief Nancy Nix, Judy Barnhill, Susie Simmons, Connie Luttrell, Sherilyn Brown, and Mitzie Barnes attended a journalism conference at Northeast College in Monroe last spring to learn more about the purpose of a high school publication.

To help the newspaper reporters learn more about their job, they toured the Shreveport Journal during the early part of the school year. John Moseley, Shreveport Times photographer, talked to the reporters about how to make newspaper pictures more effective.

HERALD reporters, Eugene Ramin, Shirley Burnett, Dianne Feazel, Danny Boutwell and Nancy Dunn board a bus after touring a local newspaper.

HERALD Advisor Mrs. Elizabeth Lawson feels that a school newspaper is a necessary part of school life and works to keep students informed by its publication.

Nancy Nix, HERALD Editor-in-Chief receives one of the many notes to her about the publication of the newspaper. Notes of this type come daily from Mrs. Lawson or other HERALD editors. They may contain a schedule of picture-taking dates, an idea for future editorials or a memo about a news-worthy event.

Herald Ad Staff Sells For Nine Editions

Approximately 140 inches of advertising space were sold for each of the nine editions of the school newspaper. Nineteen Herald Ad Staff members had the responsibility of selling the ads, planning the layouts, and then billing and collecting from advertisers.

Familiarity with the advertising field and the opportunity to learn how to be a successful salesperson make membership on this staff a much-hoped-for thing. Staff members must have a "C" average, sell $75 worth of ads, and be able to get along with other people.

Teaching a new and inexperienced staff how to crop pictures is just one of the jobs of Miss Willa Smith, ACCOLADE Advisor.

Below: Sharon Giddens and Danny Youngblood, Academic Editors, work on their section.

Accolade Editorial Staff Crops Pictures

"Miss Smith, will you pull-ease help me with this layout?" Or this copy. Or cropping a picture. Or writing a cutline.

Miss Willa Smith, ACCOLADE advisor, is a vital member of the crew that builds the yearbook. Staff workers come to her usually without any experience at all and leave knowing more about the yearbook than any other students possibly could.

In between the coming and the going, though, there are many hours spent in planning pages, writing copy, taking pictures, alphabetizing names, cropping pictures, writing cutlines, and stamping pictures—work that makes the ACCOLADE what it is.

The people entrusted with putting the yearbook together are selected by the advisor and give up a study hall to work. Work does not stop when the bell rings, though, for the students do as much or more work at home than at school. Other students know the Yearbook Staff by the bags, boxes, sacks, and folders they carry—all carefully taped or stapled so wandering eyes may not see.

The next time you look at an ACCOLADE remember that someone wrote that headline, someone made those words fit that space, and someone planned every page.

In the Woodlawn library, Linda White, Editor-in-Chief, smiles as thoughts of the 1966 ACCOLADE come to mind.

Accolade Ad Staff Has "Sales Fever"

Aching feet, an old yearbook, and the month of August are signs of "ACCOLADE Ad Staff Fever." This "fever" is really an all-out search for interested businessmen willing to buy advertisements to help finance the publication of the ACCOLADE.

Work does not stop, though, when the ads are sold—one hundred sixty-five was the total this year. The staff continues to meet once a month to type and send out statements.

It has been found, however, that the Publications Banquet in the spring of the year, honoring all the staff members of the yearbook and newspaper, is a very effective remedy for "ACCOLADE Ad Staff Fever."

Accolade Circulation Staff Has Four Sales

Poster paper and felt pens can often be seen scattered around in Room 209 first period during the first two months of school. The members of the Circulation Staff are required to make posters to advertise the four regular sales of the yearbook.

Advertising is not their only job, though, for they are responsible for distributing subscription pads before sales and collecting and recording the money after sales.

The twelve members of the Circulation Staff make up the largest in Woodlawn's history. Linda Daniel and Mary Beth Knight, Co-Managers—a first for the staff—guided the group in selling the school's largest number of yearbooks ever.

Football Ad Staff Sells 7000 Programs

"Would you like to buy a football program, sir?" This question and others like it were asked enough times at Woodlawn's home football games to sell almost 7000 souvenir programs.

Members of the Football Program Ad staff started contacting business firms last June to help finance this annual venture. Ad sales and layout plans were completed during the summer months, then members were required to sell the programs at all home games.

A special treat for this energetic group of girls was a chartered bus trip to Lafayette to see the Knights defeat the Lions to win the State Semi-Finals.

A "C" average, a neat appearance, a pleasing personality, and dependability are "musts" for all staff members. They are elected by the past year's staff with the sponsor's approval, and invitations are given out in the spring of the year.

Due to ties in selling the most advertisements, there were eight managers this year.

Staff Members—Hellen Shirah, Peggy Orsborne, Nancy Newbury, Rebecca Hollis, Darlene Durbin, Mary Thompson, Penny Clark, Helen Agotta, Brenda Jordan, Mitzie Barnes, Becky Morris, Barbara Lindsay, Connie Luttrell, Kay Nolan, Mary Beth Knight, Julie Kessler

Key Club Takes Senior Pin Orders

Judy Ervin, sophomore sponsor, worked in the bookstore taking orders for Senior Pins, a project of the Key Club, the week before Christmas.

"The score's five to four!" "How do you know?" The baseball scoreboard, a welcome addition to Woodlawn's campus, will show you. It was acquired during the year by the Key Club and will now keep baseball fans up on the score and inning of each game.

A funny rivalry resulted when the Key Club members opposed the men teachers in a basketball game. The faculty triumphed with a score of 58-54.

Thanksgiving and Christmas were times of giving for the Key Club. Gifts were taken to the small patients at Confederate Memorial Hospital.

During December, Key Club members worked in the bookstore taking orders for Senior Pins. This is the first year that Woodlawn Seniors have had an opportunity to buy a Senior Pin through the school.

The members and sponsors take turns attending the weekly Kiwanis luncheon.

Spanish Club Sees Slides Of Mexico

Los Alegres, "The Happy Ones," is the name of the Woodlawn Spanish Club. Its purpose is to promote an interest in the Spanish language and to better understand the Spanish-speaking people.

Club members meet on the first Tuesday of each month and this year they heard two guest speakers. Tamara Upchurch, a Spanish Club member, showed slides from her trip to Mexico last summer, and Mrs. Ruth Estes spoke on Spanish culture.

Anyone taking Spanish or who has already taken Spanish may join this group.

Office Workers Help With Errands

Fifteen pairs of feet belonging to the student office workers save the personnel of Woodlawn many miles of extra walking.

First period office workers collect absentee cards. Then after the morning sheet is typed and mimeographed by Mrs. Garner, Attendance Secretary, they trudge back to each class to deliver it. During each period, student workers help to answer the telephone and intercom. They also carry assignment sheets for absent pupils to teachers to get homework assignments and deliver various messages when the need arises.

Fifth period is another busy time as afternoon sheets are ready for distribution to every faculty member. And the next day this routine starts all over again!

During each of the six periods there are at least two student helpers working, giving up a study hall to do so.

A willingness to work, a C average, and a study hall period are "musts" for these volunteer workers.

Volunteer Workers Help In Cafeteria

During the five lunch shifts, approximately 1600 students are served each day in Woodlawn's modern cafeteria under the direction of Mrs. Sybil Thompson, Manager, and Mrs. Carolyn Meshell, Assistant Cafeteria Manager. They help to make the lunch program, which is an important and necessary part of the school day for each student, a special treat.

Students volunteer to work in the cafeteria, giving up their study hall, to help with the dessert, bread, and sandwich lines. Their primary duty is to replenish the counters with all the items that are needed. Five football players were chosen this year to work in the cafeteria during lunch period to keep students from stacking the trays on the moving conveyor belt. It is also their responsibility to make sure that the students remove all napkins, silverware, and milk cartons from the lunch trays and leave nothing on the cafeteria tables.

Safety Council Enforces School Traffic Rules

Have you ever wondered who put that ticket under your windshield wiper when you have disobeyed some school parking regulation? More than likely it was an officer of the Safety Council.

Its membership of one hundred forty emphasizes that Woodlawn is a safety-minded school by promoting safety in the school and community.

To help enforce school traffic regulations, 1350 parking stickers were sold this year. Cars found without stickers are given notices and, if students continue to abuse their driving privileges, further action is taken.

The Safety Council also sponsors regular fire and tornado drills and checks all fire extinguishers each week.

During December, the group's officers went to the annual Louisiana Youth Safety Conference in New Orleans.

Because accidents are not limited to adults, the Safety Council reached youngsters by showing safety films to nearby elementary students.

A representative and alternate is chosen from each fourth period class to serve on the council, which meets the first Monday of each month. For the members who go beyond the call of duty, Safety Council service awards are presented to them in the spring.

Christie Rogers, Sue Cleveland, Judy Talmadge, and Barbara Brantley work in the school store during the fourth period.

Mr. White and a committee planned their carnival Spook House.

During December also, the French Club was host of a district meeting held at Woodlawn.

Red Cross Sells Homecoming Corsages

Creating quite a sensation in Room 308 was the arrival of 272 giant mum corsages and carnation boutonnières on November 12, 1965. The distribution of these homecoming flowers completed one of the major Red Cross projects.

Another valuable annual project, which requires hours of hard work, is the compilation of a student directory which sells for fifty cents. This directory includes each student's name, classification, address, and telephone number.

Because of the Red Cross, fifteen needy families had a happy Thanksgiving and a Merry Christmas. Prior to these holidays, several boxes of food were collected at school and distributed within the area.

Members of the high school Red Cross work toward service to their school community, state and country by helping those who are less fortunate than others.

Creative Writing Club Publishes Booklet

"Now that I think about it, I knew that morning when I woke up that something would happen that day. The way the wind was blowing, the sudden cold spell in October." Sound interesting? Then read "The Scroll," a publication of the Creative Writing Club containing this work and others by Woodlawn students.

To get the material for this booklet, the club held a school-wide contest in the areas of poems, essays, and short stories. The above is from "One Small Chance," the work of Mary Anne Ramsey.

The purpose of the Creative Writing Club is to develop one's natural writing ability and to critically evaluate original material written by club members.

During December, members collected food, toys, and games to give to needy families.

This is the second year of existence for the club which was organized last year by Mrs. Martha Watson. President Danny Ferguson presided over the regular meetings of the club on the first and third Wednesdays of each month.

Audio Visual Workers Aid Faculty

Classes are more entertaining and the student's class work is made a little easier because of the work done by sixteen assistants in the Audio Visual Aids Department. Often subjects can be more understandable and more completely covered on film or tape than in a classroom discussion.

During the first few weeks of school, they are taught by Mrs. Odessie Frisch how to set up and use the equipment. For the remainder of the school year, they take care of the operational part of visual aids—showing films in classrooms and operating tape recorders and projectors—and are invaluable to this department.

Library Workers Check Books And Magazines

"Your library book will be due two weeks from today." So might go the conversation as a library worker checks out a book to a student. Work does not stop when books are checked out, however.

The workers straighten books on the shelves. They arrange magazines in the correct order. They sort library mail. They send out over-due statements. They check students in and out of the library. They help keep the library a pleasant and attractive room.

Workers must be willing to give up their study hall to work. They must be conscientious, polite, and, above all, willing to work.

For their work, members are eligible to attend the Leadership Conference held on the LSU campus during the summer.

Four Future Farmers Work At State Fair

"We have the best queen and sweetheart in Louisiana," is the general opinion of this year's sixty-two FFA'ers when referring to Terry Woods, queen, and Patty Hodge, sweetheart.

For one day, October 29, during the State Fair, Preston Anderson, Arthur Clingman, John Lewis, and Edwin Sizemore were in charge of the FFA Children's Barnyard.

To keep their local club abreast of current trends in agriculture, Arthur Clingman and David Judd, President and Vice President respectively, attended the Future Farmers' State Convention in Alexandria last summer.

FFA chapters were organized to promote agricultural education, and one must be enrolled in a class of vocational agriculture to become a member.

FHA Sells Candied Apples At Carnival

Sharon Hays, Barbara Wedgeworth, Maureen Pope, Joyce Hooper, and Brenda Webb prepare a meal for guests of Woodlawn in November.

FHA girls received fashion hints from the annual McCall's style show, they helped others by making corsages for patients at a local nursing home, and they rendered a school service by sponsoring a food booth at the annual NDCC Carnival in November. By doing these three things alone, they fulfilled many of the purposes of their organization.

This group of 97 girls who appreciate the joys and satisfactions of homemaking is led by the three Home Economics teachers, Mrs. King, Mrs. Mayo, and Mrs. Young.

"Toward New Horizons," the motto of the FHA, is presented as a challenge, reminding members that their contributions to home life today will influence the kinds of homes they have tomorrow.

Two Woodlawn FHA members serve as parish officers. Sue Gauthier is parish parliamentarian and Sue Thompson is the song leader.

Any girl presently enrolled in Home Economics or one who has a major in it is eligible for membership in this club.

4-H Club Makes It Five Wins In A Row

For the fifth consecutive year, the Woodlawn Club with 30 members on roll, is the outstanding club in Caddo Parish.

Members have brought many honors to Woodlawn this year. Vicki Williams is Parish President and Bill McFerrin is Parish Vice President. Members enjoyed a Latin Banquet, get-acquainted parties and the state convention.

Science And Math Club Is Organized

Bill Woodward and Jay Barnes, Science and Math Club members, helped construct the digital computer used in handwriting analysis at the carnival.

"Off to a great start" can surely describe the Science and Math Club fully. During its first year of existence, this new club has heard a talk and demonstration of the Laser Beam by Mr. Norman Owen of Southern Bell. Dr. John Sardisco, Research Director at United Gas in Shreveport, spoke on "Solid State Chemistry." During December club members took a field trip to the observatory where Mr. Ralph Worley lectured on telescopes.

A handwriting computer called SMADIC, Science and Math Digital Computer, was their project for the carnival.

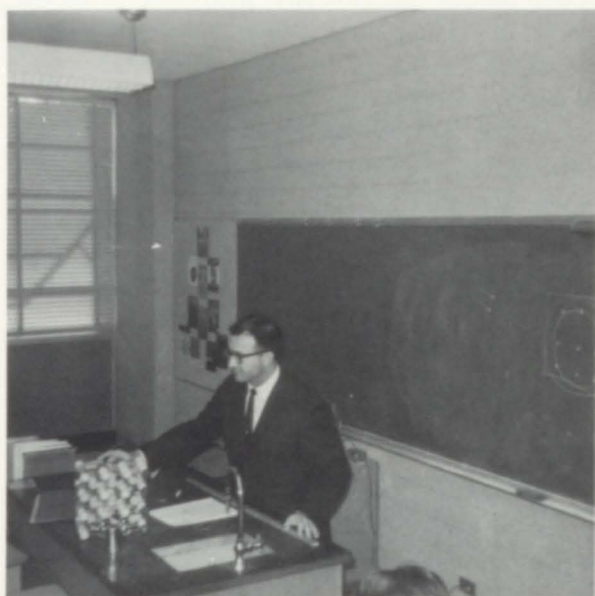

Along with Miss Maranto, Charles Tucker and Kitty Collins attended the Fifth Annual Aerospace Education Symposium at Louisiana Tech in Ruston.

The club was established to increase interest in science and math subjects by having guest speakers and going on field trips. It also encourages participation in the Science Fair. Last spring Stanley Ward won First Place in the state in Chemistry, and Shelley Carter received an Honorable Mention in Biology.

Stanley Ward distributed gifts at the Christmas party, including the cinder block for Randy Tunks. A prize was given for the craziest gift.

Participants in the Science and Math Club Christmas party enjoyed an evening of conversation, listening to records, and watching color TV.

Dr. John Sardisco of United Gas was a guest speaker at a Science and Math Club meeting.

Science and Math Club members listened attentively as a guest speaker began his lecture.

"Z" Club Is Sponsored By Shreveport Zontas

A Woodlawn Chapter of the "Z" Club was organized in the spring of last year by Mrs. Anne Bounds under sponsorship of the Shreveport Zonta Club. From a charter membership of thirty the club has grown to forty-five. Their purpose is to enthusiastically enforce and support all school projects.

The "Z" Clubbers have earned the use of their motto, "Grow Through Service." Within its one year of existence the group collected money for worthy projects, collected food for Hurricane Betsy victims, sent Christmas gifts to soldiers overseas, and adopted an orphan.

Membership is limited to girls with a 2.7 average, who have been approved by the board of directors and selected by present members. The club is made up of 50 per cent seniors, 30 per cent juniors, and 20 per cent sophomores.

Darlene Durbin and Mary Richard were entertained by Mrs. Garland Bledsoe, Zonta Club sponsor for Woodlawn, at a tea honoring new senior members.

Susie Simmons, Theresa Corley, Kitty Collins, and Kathy Allred enjoyed refreshments at the get-acquainted coke party for prospective members.

"Z" Club members worked on Saturdays and after school during the week collecting and sorting clothing to give needy families in the Shreveport area.

Projects undertaken by the "Z" Club are discussed by the forty-five members at their regular monthly meetings on the first Tuesday of each month.

Charter members of the WHS club welcome Marcia Dolin, one of the eight new senior members.

To add hours to the thirty that members must work to stay in the club, "Z" Clubbers planned their activities for the March of Dimes, and on Saturday, January 3, they stuffed envelopes.

Local Plants Host Industrial Arts Tours

The twenty-one members of this year's Industrial Arts Club and their three sweethearts went on several field trips to various Shreveport industries including the AMF Beaird plant, the new Western Electric plant, Randy Tunks, Craig Estes, and Danny Youngblood spent hours in consultation and in the library getting ideas for programs for the club.

and the United Gas Research Lab.

In March of last year Woodlawn was host for the Louisiana Association of Industrial Arts Clubs. Craig Estes and Danny Youngblood, President and Secretary respectively of this year's club, attended the convention held at the Captain Shreve Hotel in downtown Shreveport. At the two-day convention, Danny was elected to the LAIAC State Executive Council.

Members had a first this year as they ordered official Industrial Arts Club jackets. The jackets are black corduroy with an orange Industrial Arts emblem on them.

Enrollment in at least one of the courses of the Industrial Arts department—basic mechanical drawing, architectural drawing, engineering drawing, or one of the shop classes—is the one general requirement for Industrial Art Club membership.

In addition to the industrial tours and attendance at the state convention, another highlight of the year was the spring banquet for club participants.

To broaden and deepen the interest and knowledge of students in this technological age, to motivate regular school work in Industrial Arts courses, to assist in attaining the vocational objectives of club members, to promote the Industrial Arts program in public schools, and to provide recreational and leadership activities are all purposes of this organization.

Terrie Shows, Randy Tunks, and Sally Mackey waited at the Western Electric entrance as Mr. Byrd and Craig (center) met their guide.

The guide at Western Electric showed Craig Estes and Mr. Byrd a board displaying many things that go into making their telephone sets.

Junior Medical League Girls Work As Aids

As soon as the 3 p.m. bell rings to end a school day, Junior Medical League girls may be seen rushing around carrying a blue-and-white striped uniform. Since each one must work at least one afternoon after school each week, they change into their uniforms as soon as school is out and report for work immediately.

This opportunity to serve as volunteer hospital workers helps them to determine whether they wish to make it their life's occupation.

The girls work as aids at three local hospitals—Doctors', Willis-Knighton, and Schumpert. They run errands, make beds, feed patients, carry trays, read to patients, and do any other job that the supervisors entrust to them.

For their volunteer work, members are presented with certificates of citation in the spring of the year.

Anita Mahaffey, president of last year's club, was awarded a nursing scholarship to Northwestern State College in Natchitoches.

Two volunteer workers at Doctors' Hospital, Marilyn Bazer and Brenda Wilson demonstrate the jobs of an aid—filling in charts and working inter-coms.

Woodlawn's JMA Members Help At Local Hospital

Each week, Confederate Memorial Hospital patients receive care and attention from the twenty-five members of Woodlawn's Junior Medical Association. Members work on three-hour shifts and are required to work at least one shift each week. They feed patients, take temperature, change beds, take blood pressure, run errands for nurses, assist patients in walking, and help file and chart records. The workers are under the supervision of a registered nurse at all times and do any jobs that they are asked to perform.

The club, which was organized at Woodlawn last year with only twelve members, is sponsored by Thomas Carson, WHS Biology teacher, and Dr. J. E. Smith, a Shreveport doctor.

The purpose of the Junior Medical Association is to bring together high school students, who are interested in medicine and related fields of science. By sharing these interests, students explore opportunities and requirements in these fields, learn about individuals by working together, and learn about community life so that they can better participate in it.

Top: Allen Laenger and James Brown help with emergency room clean-up, one of the duties of JMA workers.

Bottom: Kent performs one of the jobs that all JMA members are required to do—that of blood pressure readings.

Miss WHS, Marcia Dolin, spends her spare time reading, bowling, and teaching piano to her cousin. She reigned as Queen of the 1966 Accolade Pageant and was in the Homecoming court during her sophomore and junior years. Marcia, who attended Pelican Girls' State last summer, has been in National Honor Society since her junior year. Future plans include attending Louisiana Tech to major in Physical Education to teach at the high school or college level. Pageant Sparkles With Ballroom Setting, Knight's Ball With Castle Theme Follows

Simplicity was the keynote in the beautiful stage decorations for the sixth annual Accolade Pageant, which was held in the school auditorium on the night of February 25, 1966.

A scene of royal splendor was created by the backdrop for the throne. A gold lame drape hung from the ceiling to the floor. It was outlined on either side by a panel of scarlet velvet which matched the cushions of the chairs on stage. Decorations, depicting a ballroom scene from the days of knighthood, were completed by hanging an elaborate gold chandelier on either side of the red-and-gold bedecked throne.

Reigning as King and Queen in this tradition-laden pageant were Tommy Spinks and Marcia Dolin. They and their attendants were selected for this honor by a vote of their classmates.

Additional color was seen as the Ladies of the Court entered gowned in emerald green peau de soie dresses accented by matching shoes. All men in the ceremony wore tuxedos. The red, gold, green, and black provided a contrasting background for the white raiment worn by the Queen.

Because of their service, valor, and loyalty, seniors Terry Bradshaw, Ronald Carlson, and Russell Evans received the accolade of knighthood from King Tommy. Queen Marcia then rewarded them with a red and blue sash.

Immediately after the school ceremony, the Knights' Ball took place at the American Legion Clubhouse on Cross Lake. A Student Council decoration committee had created an atmosphere of gaiety by using the theme, "Castles in the Sky." A record number of students enjoyed dancing to the music of the "Rhythm Masters."

Right: Ronald Carlson, who is Student Council President, plans to major in engineering at Louisiana Tech. He will remember the honor of being knighted and the great spirit and pride of the students of Woodlawn.

Right: Russell Evans, a star athlete who received the accolade of knighthood, plans to be a dentist. He will never forget the school's support for the football team and will remember Woodlawn as a great school.

Right: Terry Bradshaw gained fame this year by quarterbacking the Knights' football team to the State Finals. He is also an outstanding javelin thrower. Terry, who will play football at LSU counts being a knight a top honor

Queen Susie Wright Reigns Over Homecoming

"Entering from the south end of the field is the Woodlawn Band led by Drum Major Mike Pennywell," said the announcer, and the 1965 homecoming ceremonies had begun.

Colonel Mary Richard led the Lancerettes and Cadet Commander Major Dan Schevers commanded the Lancer Drill Platoon as they, along with the band, marched onto the field and took their places on the forty-yard lines.

The nine maids and their escorts entered through the castle made by Mr. Byrd's wood-working students and Miss Blackbourne's art classes. The escorts were chosen from 1964 graduates who had been active in their years at WHS.

Queen Susie Wright was escorted by Gerald Burnett as she emerged from the castle and advanced to center field. There the principal, Mr. Earl Turner, placed a crown on her head and gave her red roses. The Lancers then fired a salute in honor of Susie. Assisting Mr. Turner were Crown Bearer, Dennis Dunn and Flower Bearer, Mark Boyd-stun.

All responsibilities for the dance after the game rested with the Student Council. They used "Knights of Memory" for a dance theme. Hundreds of students celebrated the victory over Minden by dancing to the music of Tom and the Cats at the American Legion Club.

Former cheerleader graduates Brenda Boyette Laird, Judy Cole, and Pat Rice helped with the cheering so that three of the girls could participate in the court.

Mrs. Virginia King and Mrs. Mickey Fair were faculty sponsors for this year's event.

NFL Members Compete In Many Tournaments

Below: David Middleton and David Legan ranked extremely high at the Louisiana Tech Debate Tournament, where the squad won second place.

The National Forensic League's purpose is to stimulate interest and activity in speech and interscholastic debate. With National headquarters in Wisconsin, the NFL maintains a credit-point system for all members, granting degrees for high point accumulation. To become a member, a debater must earn a minimum of twenty-five NFL points in interscholastic speech competition and maintain a C+ grade average.

The Woodlawn Debate Club travels all over Louisiana and Texas to speech tournaments. This year they traveled to Bellaire High School in Houston, Texas; the Louisiana Tech Debate Festival; R. E. Lee Speech Festival in Houston, Texas; Northwestern Forensic Meet in Natchitoches; Loyola University Speech Tournament in New Orleans; North Texas State Regional Tournament in Dallas, Texas; and the State Championship Tournament in Lake Charles, La., among others. There they debated teams from Louisiana, Texas, Oklahoma, Mississippi, Alabama and Tennessee.

The Debate Club met with much success in 1965. David Middleton and David Waddell won 4th place in state competition. Debbye Whitney took 3rd place in Dramatic Interpretation at the same tournament. The squad took third place honors over all at the Louisiana Tech Tournament, with Jimmy Holland and Dale Davison capturing 2nd place debating honors.

Pelican Staters Participate In Politics

Several Woodlawn students attended Pelican State last August on the LSU campus. These students were elected because of their initiative, leadership abilities, scholarship and personality.

For nine days the citizens of this mythical state organize their own city, parish, and state government. They elect their own officials in regular election procedures and each delegate assumes the role of his office—including Woodlawn's own Bobby Waddell who was elected State Commissioner of Agriculture. They introduce and argue bills in a legislature composed of these delegates.

During the nine days, the citizens are subjected to many hours of hard work. They have to create a city and parish project which is ranked among the other cities.

The purpose of Pelican State is to educate the delegates of the duties, privileges, rights and responsibilities of American citizenship. Its plan is to train the students in leadership of local, parish and state government.

Seven Attend LSU Leadership Conference

The newspaper division of the annual Leadership Conference held at LSU stressed news writing through practical application by using fact situations. Putting out the conference newspaper, filled with pictures, was the high point of the newspaper classwork. The class contained seventy-three the first session, and sixty-four the second session.

Woodlawn's Miss Willa Smith and Byrd's Miss Margee Sanders taught the yearbook section of the conference. They discussed yearbook layouts, the importance of an annual's "personality," ideas for faculty and academic pages, the selection of a theme, picture cropping, the effective use of clear pictures and well-written copy.

People in the recreation division went to the conference to learn to be social leaders. This division learned from practical experience by planning the night activities during the eight days of the conference. Both sessions' night activities consisted of a get-acquainted party, dance, picnic, play night, banquet, and talent show.

Four groups—dramatics, interpretation, conference speaking and broadcasting—comprised the speech department of the Leadership Conference. Each student attended all four classes in the morning. In the afternoon the students chose a class in which they were interested. Fifty-nine attended the second session and fifty-four the first.

Charles Tucker Heads National Honor Society

National Honor Society seeks to recognize those students who excel not only in academics but also in service to the school, in leadership, and in character as well.

Twenty-nine Woodlawn members have maintained a B average from the ninth grade, and these twenty-nine are involved in every phase of campus life. Whenever work is being done, they are represented. Each one is an active, working, vital part of the school as evidenced by the organizations and clubs in which they officiate and work.

Highlights of the year included hearing a guest speaker at the annual spring banquet, participating in the impressive induction ceremony, and ushering at graduation. An interesting sidelight this year was the election of twins, David and Becky Hollis, to hold offices for the first time in Woodlawn's NHS.

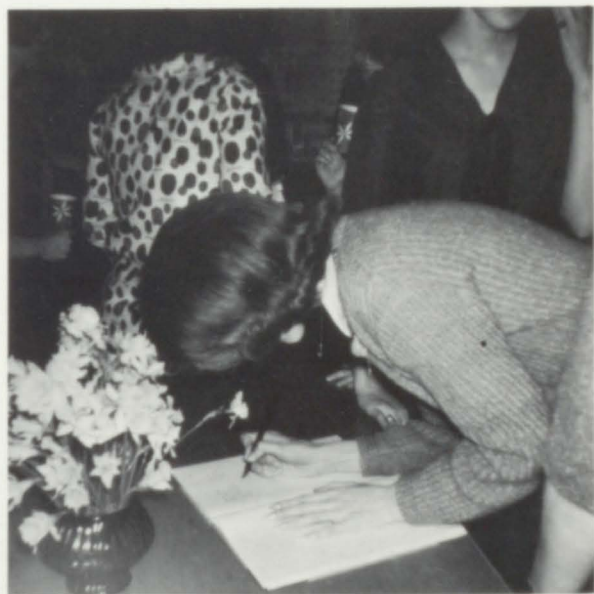

Mrs. Susie Whitaker, society advisor, has helped the group with their activities for five years now.

Woodlawn's Quill and Scroll chapter, an honor society which usually sponsors no activities, had a service project this year. Members rang bells for the Salvation Army at Christmas time. In appreciation, President Joyce Racine and Vice President Marcia Dolin were guests at a Salvation Army Advisory Board meeting at Smith's Cross Lake Inn.

This organization recognizes outstanding ability and contributions in and to the field of journalism. Thus, new members are selected each spring from journalism students, the ACCOLADE and HERALD staffs, and the Football Program Ad Staff.

Induction ceremonies, led by the society officers, are held each spring in a school assembly.

Band Does Skillful Precision Marching

Precision marching by the band adds interest to the half-time shows when the Knights play football. Each individual works hard to contribute to the unity that is evident in the superior marching exhibitions. They marched this year at all the games except with North Caddo and Sulphur when the field was too muddy.

Shreveporters and Louisianians had opportunity to see this band, with a record membership of 89, in action at the football games, downtown at the State Fair parade, performing at the groundbreaking for Balfield Industries, giving school concerts, and competing at the marching Festival. In recent years this group has won First Place Awards in marching, playing, and in parades. A memorable experience was when they represented the Fourth Congressional District at Governor McKeithen's inauguration.

The concert band made about six trips this year to participate in various activities.

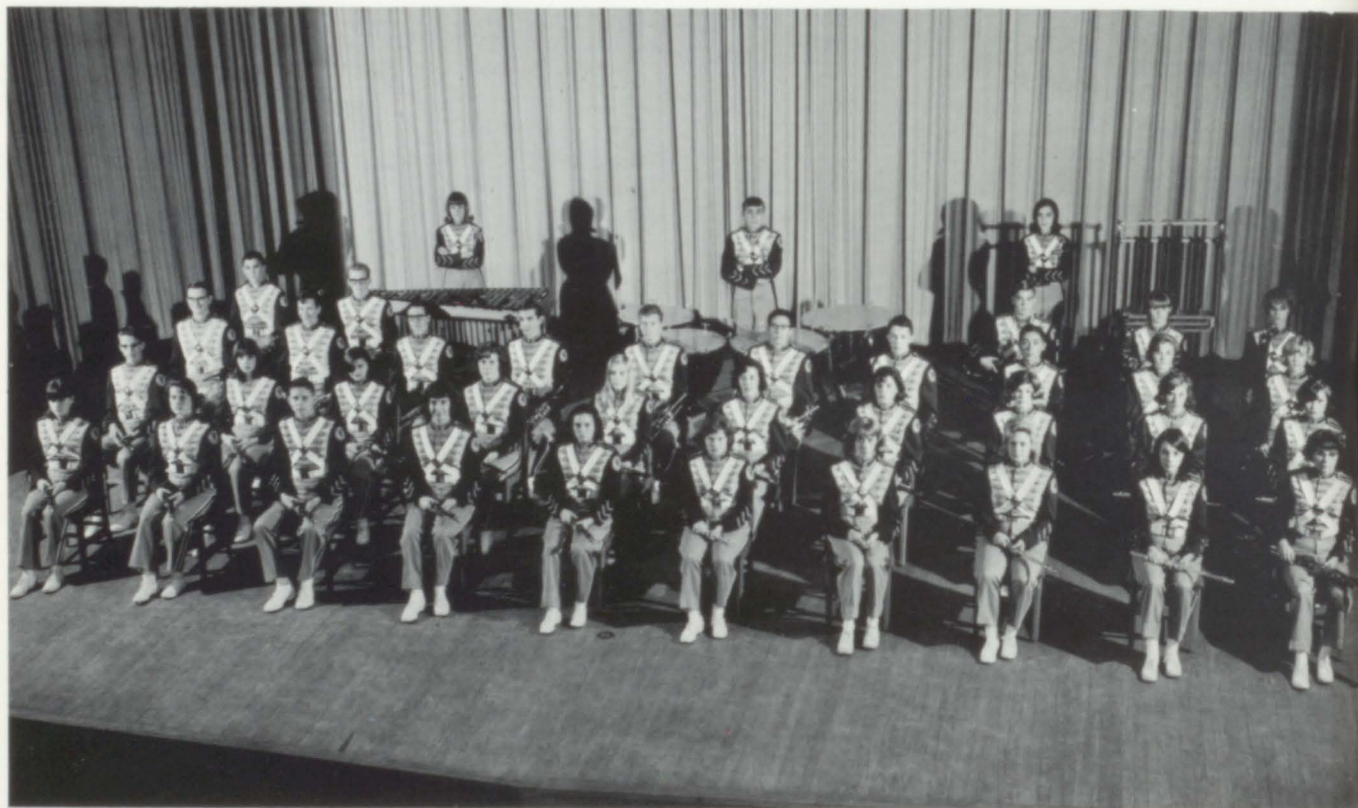

A new phase of the band program was inaugurated last year with the formation of the Stage Band. This group, made up of people who audition from Concert Band, plays various jazz and dance numbers. Appearances were made this year at a PTA meeting at Woodlawn, the Caddo PTA Council, a meeting of the Summer Grove PTA and the Kiwanis Club.

Other parts of the instrument instructional program include a class of Intermediate Band students, an Orchestra class and the Drum and Bugle Corps.

These groups, including all bands, have made a combined total of more than fifty appearances during the current year.

When asked to describe the band in twenty-five words or less, the director replied, "Hard work . . . perseverance . . . pride . . . Esprit de Corps . . . improvement . . . high school children . . . enjoyment . . . satisfaction!"

Concert Choir Develops Interest In Singing

A good innate musical ability and a desire to sing are the chief characteristics each member of the Concert Choir must possess. Members are chosen on audition by Mr. Melvin Simmons, director.

Attired in black peau de soie dresses and black suits the 53-voice choir makes a stunning impression as they perform because they appeal to the eyes as well as the ears.

Many members participated in the production of "Oklahoma" this year, which was directed by Mrs. Judy Bordelon, and Mr. Simmons. Some were even fortunate enough to gain leading roles.

Parents and students have opportunity to hear them sing in their winter and spring concerts. A trip that choir members especially enjoy is the one to the annual Choral Festival held at Northwestern State College each spring.

Three choir members received an extra-special honor because they got to participate in the All-State Chorus which sang at the Louisiana State Teachers' Convention last November.

Girls' Choir Gets Navy And White Outfits

Below: An Ensemble from Girls' Choir sang a number at the spring festival at NSC.

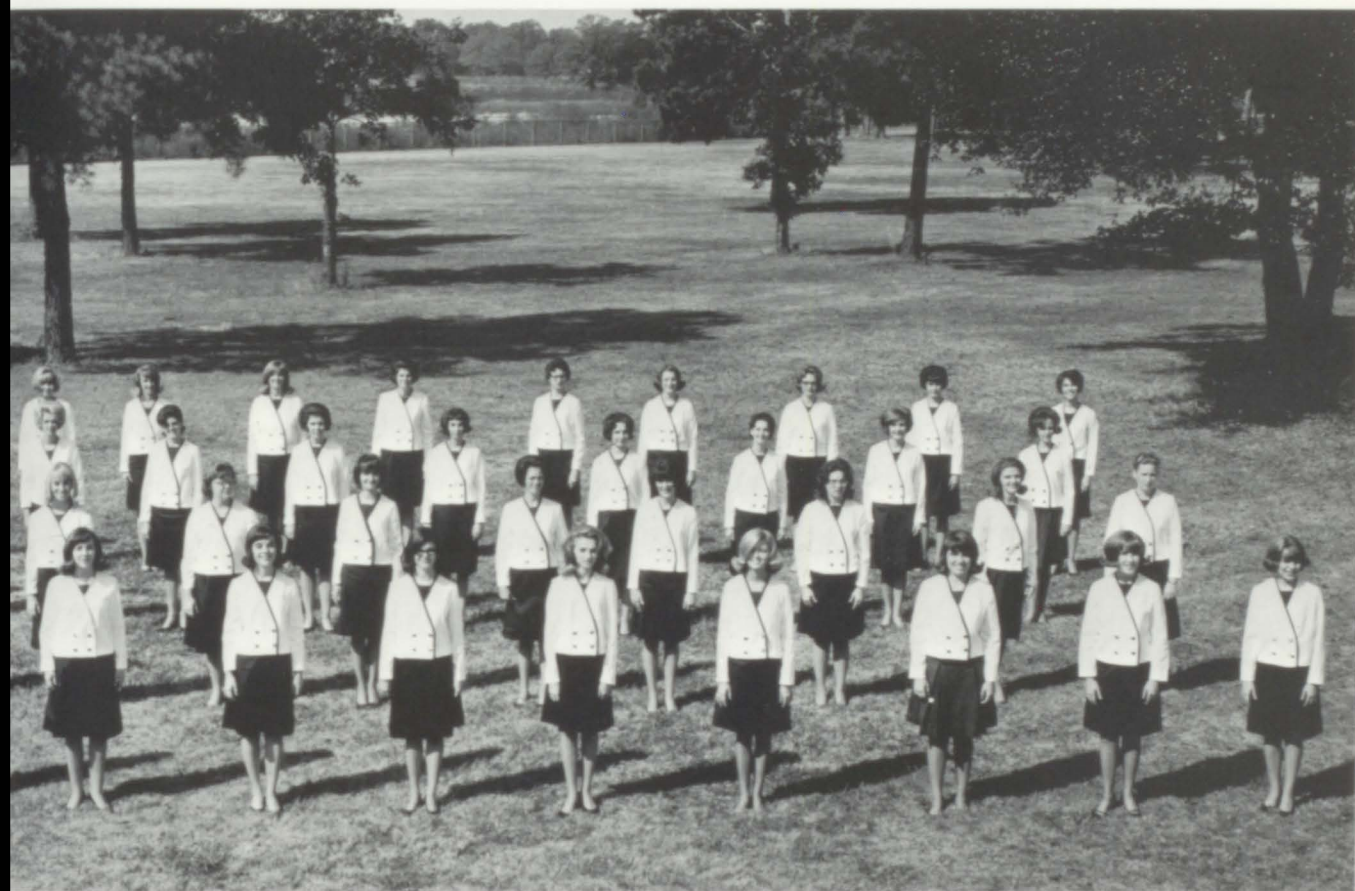

Girls' Choir is a smartly dressed, attractive group of young ladies. Their royal blue skirts and white double-breasted blazers, which are new this year, add sparkle to their appearances.

This choir, which was formed a few short years ago, has its largest number of members this year. Their popularity as a singing group continues to grow. Woodlawn students get to enjoy their singing as they perform at the winter and spring concerts.

Frequently the Girls' Choir appears on the same program with the Concert Choir. Membership in this organization provides a fine experience in singing and an escapade in hard work.

To them, one of their more exciting activities is to attend the Music Festival at Northwestern State College where their ensembles have received superior ratings.

Many hours of practice for the chorus were necessary during the first rehearsals of "Oklahoma." The singers learned the music scores before going on stage with the principals for acting, and learning exits and entrances.

Mrs. Bardelon - You really did a fine job on "Oklahoma." I'm sure you will be proud of it for many years, and you deserve to be. I really had a great time this year & I would like to thank you for helping me so much. I really enjoyed the election. Your help was really helpful. May God be with you always. As you continue to spread much happiness through the halls of our night Castle! Love always & thank again, Cathy Dahme

Five people watch; five people judge. Are the lines straight? Are the troops in step? Are the cadets well-groomed? These and other points are checked by Lt. Colonels Turner and Taylor, Brigade Commander David Hollis, Sponsor Kay Nolan, and Operations Officer Danny Schevers as the 185 cadets and their 15 sponsors march during regular Wednesday parades.

The National Defense Cadet Corps trains its members for citizenship and mature leadership through high standards of military discipline. Results of this training are revealed as Woodlawn's Cadets, Color Guard, Lancer Drill Team, Drum and Bugle Corps, and Rifle Team represent the school in various parades and competitions.

Military science involves a study of rifle marksmanship, the M-1 rifle, map reading, first aid and sanitation, military tactics, and other details of modern combat.

1966 marks the final year for the NDCC program here. The Woodlawn Battalion will become part of the Reserve Officers Training Corps next year. Change to ROTC is welcome, but cadets still will remember NDCC. All that will change is the uniform, which will be issued by the government; the cadets will be of the same loyal spirit.

Rifle Team Warms Up For National Matches

Their goal is good marksmanship; their spirit, competitive. They work for the honor of the corps and Woodlawn. What's the key to their success? Lt. Col. Taylor, Cadet Major Charles Ivy, Sponsor Becky Hollis or any of the Rifle Team Cadets would tell you that sportsmanship, practice, and pride contribute greatly to it.

The Rifle Team member usually wears a gold scarf, a blue and white shoulder cord, and sometimes a row of ribbons or a chain of medals earned by his shooting skill.

In competition with the high school ROTC and local professional military units, the Rifle Team ranks third in Shreveport.

Lancers Participate In Various Parades

"Shoulders back! Stop moving in the ranks! Keep those backs straight! Jackson! Quiet! Ebarb! You're wiggling!"

Lt. Col. Turner and the cadet officers give the Lancer Drill Platoon a taste of discipline—discipline that builds precision team work in marching and handling weapons. Proven effective, this strict discipline has made the Lancers the top team in City-Wide Competition for two consecutive years; twice it has earned them the title of "Holiday-In-Dixie Champions."

Lancer cadets, about half of whom are sophomores, must maintain "C" averages in school work to qualify for drill team. They all share the desire to excel in drill. So on four afternoons a week one can see cadets practicing, marching, and drilling from 3:00 to 3:45.

Woodlawn has received numerous honors because of its Drill Team. They represented the school in City-Wide Competition, Gulf Coast Conference Rifle and Drill Team Competition, and Fourth Army Competition at Arlington, Texas; they performed in the Veteran's Day Parade, the Holiday-In-Dixie Parade and the Christmas Parade in Natchitoches, La.; and they paid tribute to the Homecoming Court with an eight-gun salute.

The Lancer Drill Platoon teaches precision drill team work, develops good sportsmanship, instills a competitive spirit in cadets, and builds up school pride.

Knights Win First Place In District Play, Take Second Spot In State AAA Finals

After winning the district crown with a 5-1-1 record, the Woodlawn Knights went to the state playoffs playing Terrebonne of Houma and defeating them 13-2. Then they journeyed to Lafayette to play the number one ranked Lafayette Lions. After upsetting the Lions 28-13 in one of Woodlawns' finest games, the Knights moved into the state championship game with the Golden Tornadoes from Sulphur.

Woodlawn fell short as Sulphur won the title 12-9. The game was played in a steady rain, which accompanied WHS to many games. The lead changed hands three times with Sulphur scoring last.

A season record of 11-2-1 boosted Woodlawn's five year total to 47-12-2 (.787), a record better than any team in the state.

Extra honors were added as Senior end

Tommy Spinks was named to the All-State team because of his fine performances. Coach Lee Hedges was named "AAA Coach of the Year" for the state of Louisiana. In its sixth year Woodlawn had thirty-four lettermen with seventeen returning to play in 1966.

WHS Knights played many close games, winning four by less than seven points. During the regular season they were stunned as Ouachita scored in the closing seconds to defeat the Woodlawn squad. Beating Byrd for the first time in football in the six-year history of the school was one of Woodlawn's biggest thrills.

This WHS team, predicted to win only four games, set a goal for future teams to follow if they too want to be "Knights of Woodlawn."

WHS Knights Obtain First Playoff Victory

Woodlawn 13 Terrebonne 2

Tanking the Terrebonne Tigers 13-2, the Knights advanced into the state AAA semi-finals.

A long hard-fought first half produced no score for either team and made the battle look even. During the second half the Knights got underway with Russell Evans grabbing a Bradshaw pass to put the Knights ahead 6-0. Evans extra point conversion gave the Knights a 7-0 lead at the end of the third quarter. The Knights caught the Tigers' quarterback behind the line for big losses with leading tackles Baughman and Tubbs doing the damage. Then with the running attacks of Hagin, Brown, and Evans, Woodlawn jumped to a 13-0 lead with Evans scoring. The safety came from a high snap over Bradshaw's head and into the end zone which gave Terrebonne their only points. With seconds left in the final quarter, Spinks intercepted a Gautreaux pass to give the Knights ball control for the rest of the game.

Quarterback Terry Bradshaw, on a keeper, evades a Terrebonne player in the first playoff game. Terry passed for 21 touchdowns this season, a new state record.

Juniors Craig Marlow and Doug Bland combine to bring down the state's most outstanding back, Ross Brupbacher. The Knights defeated Lafayette's Lions by a score of 28-13 in Lafayette to post their second state playoff victory in a row.

All-State end Tommy Spinks scored the only Woodlawn touchdown in the state final game on this 7-yard pass from Terry Bradshaw. Spinks, who played both offense and defense, caught 32 passes for 721 yards and 10 touchdowns during the 1965 season.

Woodlawn 28 Lafayette 13

Advancing into the state AAA finals, Woodlawn swept over previously unbeaten Lafayette 28-13.

Tom Hagin excited Knight fans with a 59-yard reception from Terry Bradshaw for a touchdown. The combined efforts from Ross Brupbacher and George Coussan put the Lions close to the Knights. Then the Knights marched to the Lafayette one where Bradshaw sneaked in for the second score. Swivel-hipped Tom Hagin put the Knights out of reach of the Lions with a 65-yard touchdown run. Bradshaw capped the Knights scoring by nailing Evans in the end zone. The Lions' last score came from a Coussan 35-yard touchdown pass to Phil Dismukes. All four of Evans' extra point attempts counted while Lafayette's Stan Broussard counted one.

Not only were the Knights the only team to beat Lafayette, but they were the only team that scored more than 7 points on them. Spinks caught 3 passes for a total yardage of 51 with Hagin and Evans catching one each for 59 and 24 yards respectively. Bradshaw hit 5 of 15 passes for a total of 134 yards.

Right: Fullback Bobby Brown led the Knights in rushing during the Sulphur game by carrying for 37 yards on 7 tries, an average of 5.3 yards.

Opposite Page—Lower Right: Steve Miller and Doug Bland move in to assist in halting the Tor ball carrier. The defensive unit, despite the rain, did a fine job.

Rain fell continuously as the Knights battled Sulphur for the State AAA Football Championship, but about 12,000 wet, chilled, diehard fans huddled under umbrellas and stayed until the end of the game.

State Championship Game Ends With 12-9 Defeat

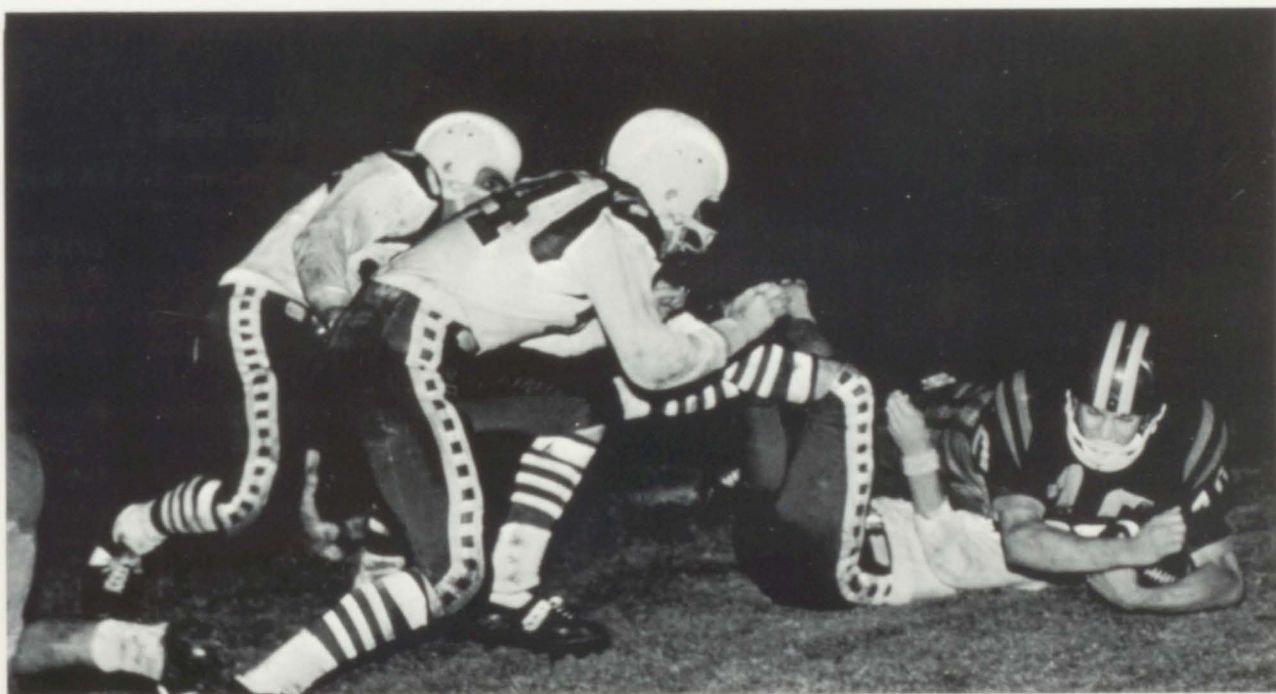

Rain and more rain dominated the state final playoff, and the gallant Knights from Woodlawn missed the crown by a 3-point margin.

A bruising battle in the first quarter ended with the Tors leading 6-0. The Knights fought valiantly, and before the half was over a Bradshaw to Spinks 7-yard pass evened the score until Russell Evans conversion point gave the Knights a 7-6 lead.

The safety came on the first series of the third quarter and the Knights spirit rose with the score of 9-6. Near the end of the last quarter Kent Carlin turned the table when he intercepted a Bradshaw pass. Then three plays later Jimmy Barton ran in from the one and Sulphur led 12-9. The mighty Knights fought hard but time was the determining factor.

Even though the Knights took the runner-up spot they proved to Louisianians that the gallantry and pride of Knighthood are still alive at the Sherwood Park school.

Off to the races went Mike Turner as he ran 19 yards for a TD. His six points broke the single-game team scoring record of 47 points set in 1964.

Quarterback Terry Bradshaw sneaks into paydirt for the season's first TD in a conference game. WHS won 28-7 over the Fair Park Indians.

Knights Break Scoring Record In First Game

Woodlawn 59 N. Caddo 0

Setting a new school scoring record, the Knights crushed the Rebels from North Caddo 59-0.

Tommy Spinks and Russell Evans started things rolling with Spinks catching two TD passes from Bradshaw while Evans captured one. Combined running efforts from Tom Hagin, Tommy Harrington, Russell Evans, Doug Bland, and Mike Turner of 12, 4, 11, 12, and 19 yard runs respectively gave the Knights an impressive lead. Doug Bland put the cap on the scoring spree with a 35-yard TD run. Evans' extra point conversions counted a plus five and the Knights walked away with a 59-0 verdict over the Rebels.

Woodlawn 28 Fair Park 7

Grabbing a share in District 1-AAA lead, Woodlawn rolled over Fair Park 28-7.

The Knights scored once in every quarter. Terry Bradshaw jumped in for the first score from the one and in the second quarter Tommy Spinks took in a 35-yard pass from Bradshaw.

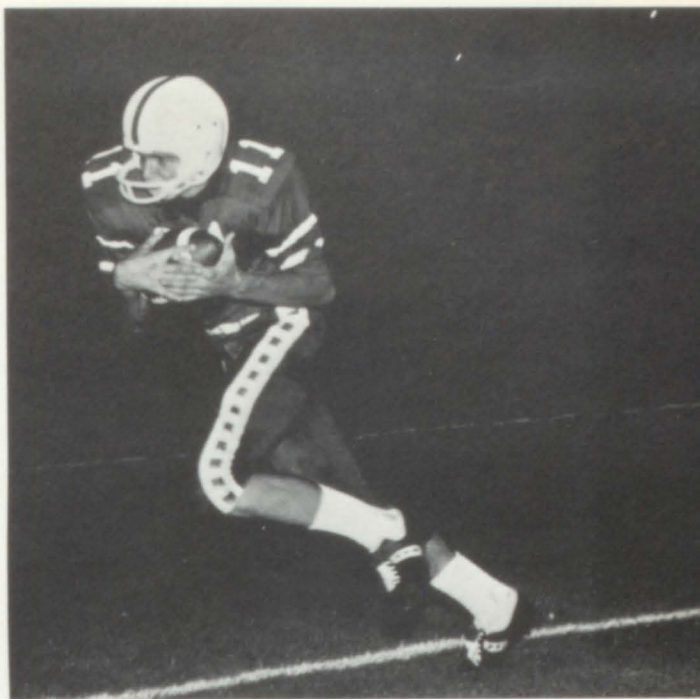

In the third quarter Hagin plowed 38 yards for the third TD. In the last half Evans picked off a Bradshaw 25-yard bullet. All of Evans' extra point attempts counted. Fair Park's only score came from a Jerry Smith 13-yard pass to John Miller. Miller's PAT made it 7 points.

Woodlawn 41 Bastrop 14

Bombing Bastrop for the second straight time, the Knights marched off with a 41-14 victory.

Bill Smith got the Knights rolling by pouncing on a Bastrop fumble in the end zone. Hagin came just behind and marched 27 yards for the second Knight score. In the second quarter Hagin gave the fans a breathtaking 84-yard punt return touchdown—longest in the school's history. Bastrop's Lewis Hester accepted a 10-yard pass from Jimmy Gilbert in the end zone. During the third chapter, the Knights' only score came from Bobby Brown's two-yard dash.

Later, Bradshaw shot a 12-yard pass to Tommy Spinks for another score. Tommy Harrington put the cap on the Knight's scoring. In the fading minutes Wain Reily ran 13 yards for Bastrop's last score. Evans' PAT mounted a plus five. Tommy Herbert's PAT's counted plus two.

Tommy Spinks hauls in a pass and sprints for the end zone against Jesuit in the Shreveport Jamboree.

The Knights, running from the I formation, defeated Airline 21-20 in the third quarter. Averaging 26.3 points per game, they broke the school scoring record for one season with 368 points, surpassing the old record of 295, set in 1964, by 73 points.

Woodlawn 20 Ouachita 26

With seconds left in the game, Ouachita upset the Knights in a district game by a score of 26-20.

Popping ahead, Ouachita's Don Bendily ran in from the six-yard line for a touchdown. Hagin scampered six yards for the Knights' score.

Scoring twice in the second half for the Knights, Tom Hagin rocketed 69 yards, and again in the last quarter for eight yards. Bendily rallied once in both of the remaining quarters to put the Lions right under the Knights. With just seconds left in the game, Ouachita's Johnny Knighten ran in from the one-yard line. Evans got 2 out of 3 extra point tries with Hale getting 2 out of 4 for the Lions.

Woodlawn 21 Airline 20

Woodlawn Knights thrilled their fans with a 21-20 come-from-behind victory over the Airline Vikings.

Airline jumped ahead with a Jim West 18 yard touchdown run and Rudy Estess' two-yard TD run. Shortly, Woodlawn's Tom Hagin grabbed a 65-yard bomb from Terry Bradshaw for a touchdown. Then Rudy Estess blurted 40 yards for another Airline touchdown. Coming close behind, Tommy Spinks hugged a 66-yard Bradshaw touchdown pass. Later Tom Hagin scored in the third quarter by running in from the eighty-yard line. Russell Evans' extra points helped the Knights' to victory with all four counting with Airline's Erick Kilpatrick getting three out of four tries.

Considering the down, field position, score, and time, the coaches decide which play will be most effective against the Byrd defense.

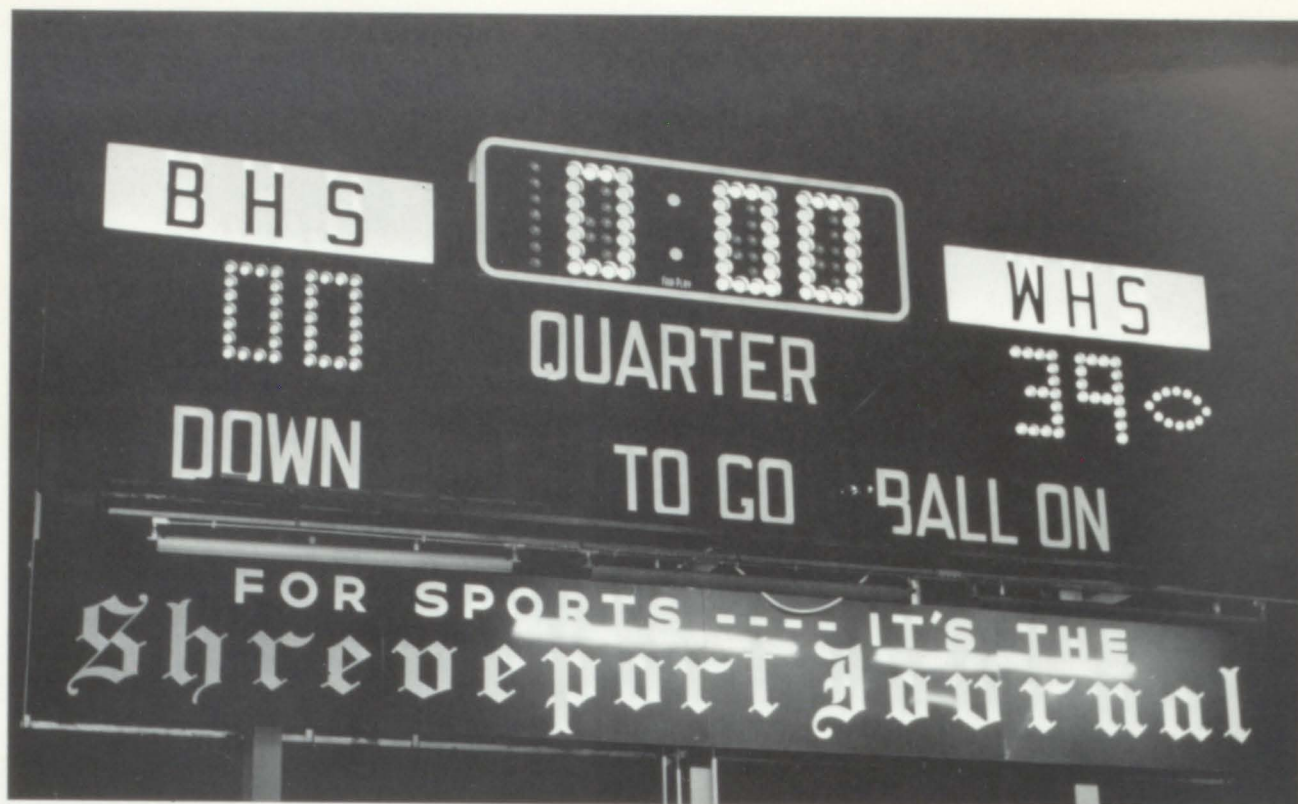

Woodlawn 20 W. Monroe 20

Woodlawn battled West Monroe to a 20-20 conference game tie.

Opening the game, Hagin scooted 4 yards for the Knights' first score. The Rebels shot back when Floyd Reeves took a 19-yard pass in for the TD. Again Hagin zipped 5 yards to put the Knights ahead at the end of the second quarter.

West Monroe tied the score when Ware romped 20 yards. Woodlawn obtained a lead when Evans grabbed a Bradshaw pass to make the score 20-13. With 5 minutes left in the game, West Monroe came from behind to tie the score 20-20. Both Evans and Wiggins PAT's counted a plus 2 each.

For the first time, after six long years, the scoreboard at State Fair Stadium showed WHS defeating Byrd.

Knights Celebrate Victory Over Byrd

Woodlawn 39 Byrd 0

Woodlawn's Knights swatted the Byrd High Yellow Jackets for the first time in the school's history by a crushing 39-0 victory.

Junking the Jacket jinx, Bobby Brown tore five yards for the opening touchdown. Soon Spinks spooked the Jackets with a 35-yard reception from Bradshaw for a TD. Shortly, Tom Hagin scored on an electrocuting 7-yard run. Then Spinks intercepted a Jacket pass and gallantly ran it for a TD. Terry Bradshaw led the team down to the one on the Jacket territory where he rolled over for another touchdown. Ross Oglesby dashed 18 yards for the final touchdown, exterminating the Jackets 39-0.

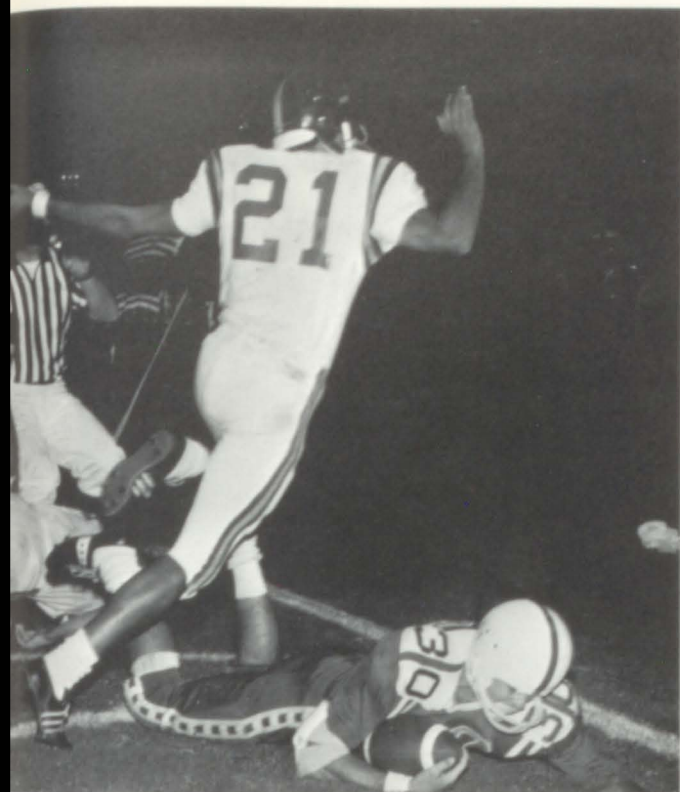

This victory over Byrd sparked the Knights as they went on to win their next six games and advance to the state championship game.

Woodlawn 21 Ruston 14

Holding off a determined Ruston Bearcat line, the Knights boosted their slate to 6-1-1 by stumping Ruston 21-14.

In the opening minutes of the game, Tommy Spinks put the Knights ahead by grabbing a Terry Bradshaw 68-yard touchdown bomb. Ruston held the Knights in the second quarter and evened the score with Allen Shorey bouncing in on the one.

Fullback Bobby Brown ran a dazzling 59 yards for a touchdown. A Ruston drive put them even with Woodlawn as Bruce Jackson scampered 3 yards for a TD. Later, Russell Evans put the Knights permanently ahead by taking an eight-yard pass from Bradshaw. Evans' extra points counted a plus three and Ruston's extra points came from a Gary Crawford run and a Bruce Jackson boot.

Woodlawn 9 Neville 7

For the first time in the school's grid history, a field goal gave the Knights a victory. With Woodlawn's victory and Ouachita's loss to Byrd, the Knights moved into the District lead.

The Knights hopped ahead in the second quarter with Bradshaw throwing a 7-yard pass to Spinks who was in the end zone. Evans' extra point attempt was blocked and the score was 6-0.

In the third quarter, Neville's Lenny Heimgartner returned a 72-yard punt, and with Monty Moncrief's extra point boot counting, the Tigers were ahead 7-6. Late in the fourth stanza a fumble on the Neville 14 made things seem hopeless for the Knights, but the Armorclads held them for four downs; then the Knights got the ball and Spinks grabbed a Bradshaw pass at the fifteen. With 17 seconds left, Evans' historic field goal gave the Knights a thrilling 9-7 victory. Terry Bradshaw completed 10 of 19 passes with Spinks gathering 6 for 71 yards and Evans and Hagin catching 2 apiece for 42 and 8 yards respectively. Bradshaw punted a total distance of 242 yards averaging 40-3.

Woodlawn 34 Minden 13

Celebrating Homecoming, Woodlawn danced pass the Minden Crimson Tide 34-13.

Moving in for the first score, Bradshaw thrust in from the one-yard line. Hagin answered opportunity's knock by running three yards for another score. Later, Minden moved into the game with Bobby Lyle's 2-yard pass to Larry Brewer. Then Bill Smith and Tom Hagin respectively took a Bradshaw pass for the third and fourth touchdown. Lyle tossed a 220-yard pass to Mike Day for the Tigers' last TD. Evans counted a plus four and Brewer a plus one in the extra point department.

The Knights looked superb as they performed before the many returning graduates and won their fifth straight homecoming game.

Woodlawn 26 Bossier 7

"We're No. 1!"

Knight fans chanted this for the second time in five years as the Armorclads bruised Bossier 26-7.

Bradshaw used his powerful arm to nail Tommy Spinks for the first touchdown of the game. Later Bobby Brown scampered 8 yards for another touchdown. Tom Hagin closed the first half by accepting a Bradshaw pass in the end zone.

Starting off the second half, Bossiers' James Smith took a Kenny Kruithof pass for the Bearcats' only score. Jerry Harris PAT made the Bearcats' score 7 points. Doug Bland rallied 12 yards to score the Knights last regular season touchdown for 1965.

Sophomore Win Streak Ended At Thirteen

With a 33-6 loss to Airline the sophomore team ended a three-year winning streak. The streak was started at the end of the 1963 season with a victory over Bossier. No games were lost in 1964. Coached by Ken Ivy, the 1965 team ended with a 5-2 record, with the only other loss, following the Airline game, to the Fair Park Indians by a score of 27-7. The tenth grade team showed that in years to come WHS will give fierce competition. The Knights "B" team, consisting mostly of sophomores, concluded their season with a 7-6 decision over Fair Park to raise its record to 1-4-1. The B team never lost by more than two touchdowns and not getting the breaks sometimes meant defeat. They performed well despite their losing record.

Both teams played their home games on the Woodlawn football field with the sophomores playing on Monday and the B team on Thursday. A few of the better players dressed for two and sometimes three games a week. The sophomore players learned, by watching the varsity in action, that Knights never quit.

Knights Finish Fourth In Own Tournament

Defeating Logansport 74-32 in the opening round of the Woodlawn Invitational, the Knights then challenged the Summerfield team, with its 6-11 giant, Charles Bishop. After Bishop fouled out, the Woodlawn quintet took over and raced to a 53-42 victory. In the semifinal game the Knights were downed by Byrd. Then playing for third place the Woodlawn team was defeated by Fair Park in the closing seconds by four points. This year's tourney was won by Byrd as they defeated Converse 70-46.

Finishing with a 5-21 record, the Knights between victories over Summerfield and Ouachita of Monroe, lost a record of fourteen in a row. The Knights also defeated Fair Park and Bossier, to finish with a 2-12 district record.

This year's team had six lettermen, with only one, Larry Bazer, winning his second award in basketball. The only junior letterman was Russell Wilks.

Below: Coaches Ken Ivy and W. B. Calvert watch from the bench and discuss the problems facing the Knights.

Young Teams Trained By Coach Ken Ivy

In his first year as assistant basketball coach, Ken Ivy led his Sophomore Team to a record of 6-4, finishing third in the sophomore league. Coach Ivy's B Team, after dropping their first four decisions, came on strong to finish with a 8-10 record, with all their victories coming in district games.

Running a completely different offense, the B Team sometimes participated in the varsity games when things looked dim for the Knights. While playing, they gave the varsity a rest and a chance to discuss the game with Coach Calvert.

The Sophomore Team defeated Byrd, Fair Park, and North Caddo twice each for six wins. The B Team downed Bastrop and Ouachita twice, along with wins over Bossier, Fair Park, Neville, and West Monroe.

Two Knights Finish High In State

At the state meet in Lafayette last spring, Terry Bradshaw and Tommy Spinks earned five points for the Knights. Terry finished third in the javelin event by throwing it 194' 6" while Tommy pole vaulted 12 feet to finish fourth in the state. Tommy Watson also qualified to attend the state meet but he did not place.

Through the year the Knight track team improved greatly. They placed high in all the meets they attended with a fifth place finish being the lowest. At the city meet and the district meet, both held at Bossier, the Knights finished third and fourth respectively.

For the fourth year in a row, the Byrd cinder team swept the Woodlawn Invitational. They won the meet by a margin of sixty points over Fair Park, the second place finisher. Woodlawn ran a close third.

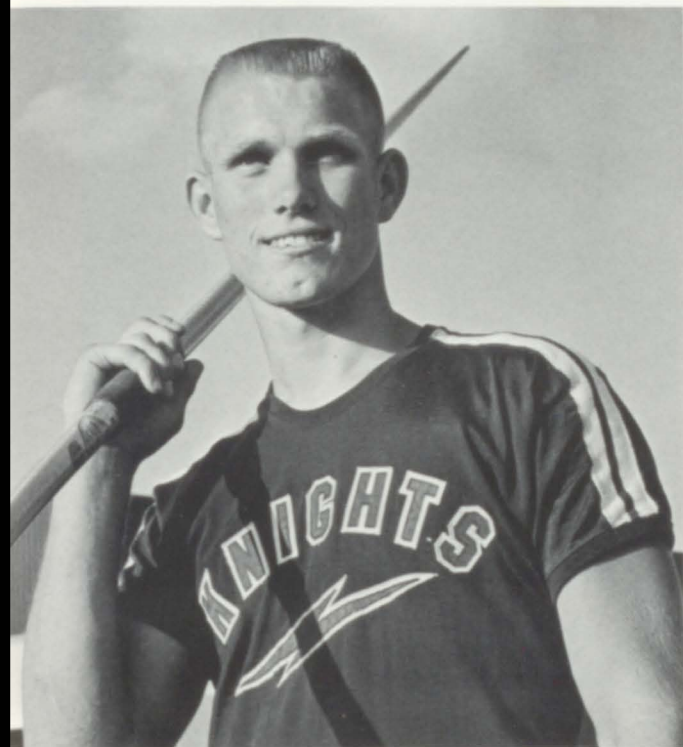

Out of sixteen letterman, nine returned this year. There were seven each of Seniors and Juniors plus two sophomores. Four new school records were set and another tied by the 1965 team which was coached by Billy Joe Adcox and A. L. Williams.

Terry Bradshaw, with a heave of 202' 6", set a new school record in the javelin throw at the Preptacular meet in Alexandria. Terry finished third in the state.

Third year letterman Gerald Burnett sprints a 440-yard dash, his part on the mile relay team.

Knights Have Sixteen Lettermen In 1965

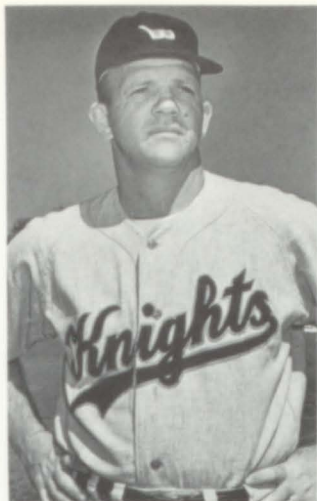

Woodlawn's 1965 Baseball Club sported a 10-8-2 season record and composed a 6-6-2 district slate. Coach Jerry Adams led the team to two victories each over Bastrop, Airline, and Byrd. In two consecutive games, Woodlawn played a total of 30 innings without a victory or defeat tying with Bossier and with Neville. Woodlawn's powerful offense scored 16 runs more than the opponents and a total of 23 runs in all of the first innings combined.

A new record was set during the 1965 season as the Knights won 6 straight games. The best previous record of 4 straight victories had been set in 1962.

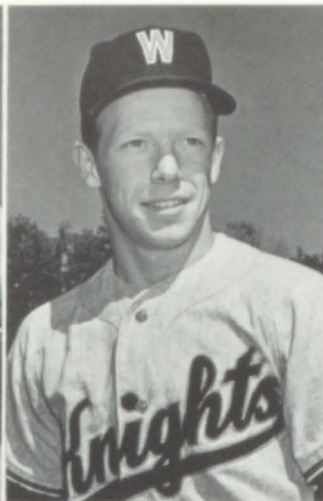

Third-Year lettermen include: Joe Colvin, Jerry Friar, Ken Liberto, Trey Prather, Byron Sprawls and Nico Van Thyn. Other lettermen were seniors: Thomas Cella, Scottie Shaw; juniors: John Kerley, Bobby Mothershed, Tommy Spinks, Jimmy Stevens, Larry Turner; and sophomores: Bill Thrash, Terry Tucker, and Bruce Williamson.

Ken Liberto made the All-City Team with a .293 batting average. Other leading hitters were John Kerley (.300), Jerry Friar (.254), and Larry Turner (.217).

Second Golf Team Wins Five Matches

One stroke meant the difference as the 1965 golf team defeated Byrd in its first match of the year. The team posted a 5-8 record with double victories over North Caddo and Plain Dealing.

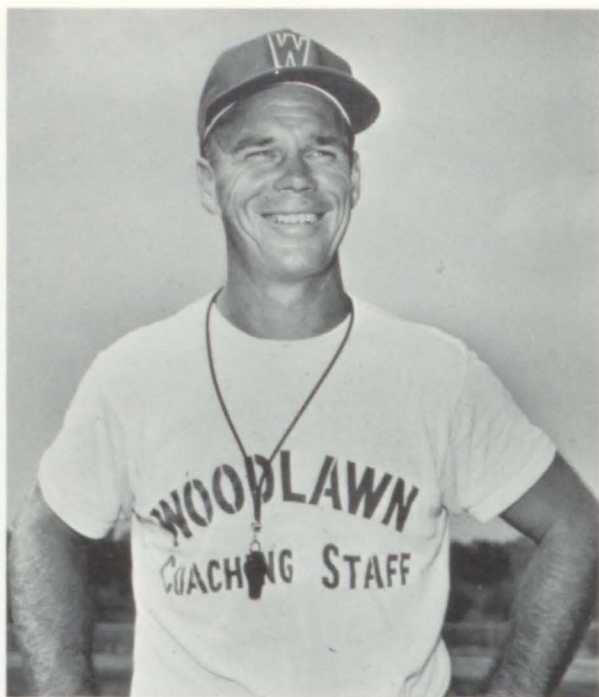

Coach W. B. Calvert was in charge of setting up the team's matches which were played at the Meadowlake Country Club. The eleven golfers furnished their own equipment.

Four lettermen, Mike Reeves, Paul Fetterhoff, Tommy Bellows, and Leon Williams, attended the state rally at Baton Rouge. Terry Creech was the only other letterman.

Others on the team were David Creswell, Frank Creswell, Roger Braniff, and Dennis Curry.

Helping the tennis team get into the swing of things, Coach Lee Hedges taught the techniques of stroking.

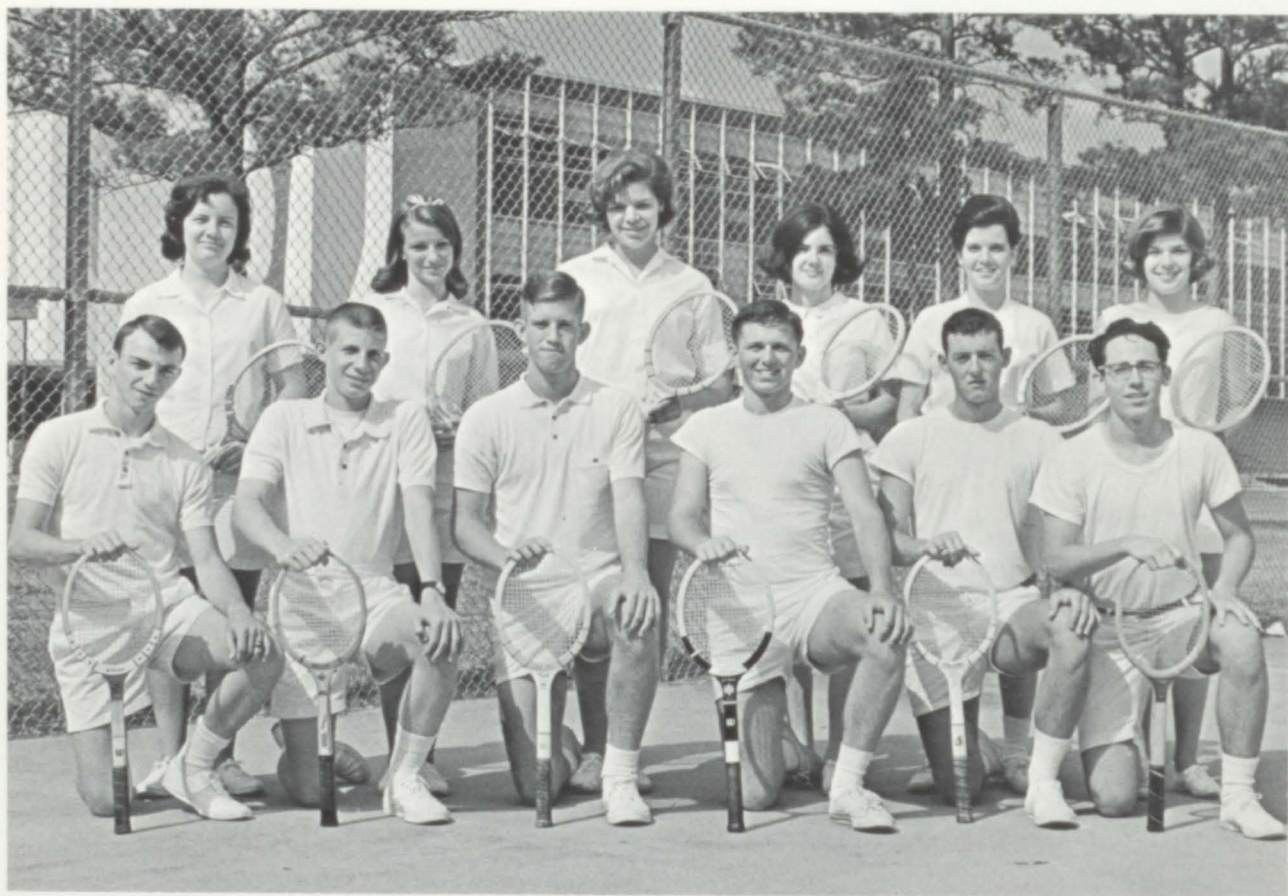

Experienced Lettermen Strengthen Tennis Team

Keeping in mind the matches ahead, members of the tennis team spent not only their P. E. hour but also many afternoons after school practicing to improve their stroking and serving. While others practiced on certain techniques, some played in practice matches.

Coached by Lee Hedges, the tennis team counted two victories over Airline and one over Bossier. Four matches were won by the squad in the District Tournament.

Third year lettermen are Ray Jackson, Gary Laun, and Betty Bell. Second year lettermen are John Gray and Joyce Minnis, and lettering for the first time are Jack Harper, John Prock, Penny Clark, Kathy Duvall, and Mary Thompson. Her disbelief at having been elected cheerleader is evident as Madge Moore sheds tears of joy. New cheerleaders are announced each spring.

Extending a welcome to the new sophomores is Head Cheerleader, Marcia Dolin. A Sophomore Orientation Assembly was held the first day of school to acquaint them with Woodlawn.

Cheerleaders Led In State Week Pep

They're the lively ones, the SMU champions. The cheerleaders, over-all champs in final competition, brought home four blue ribbons and one red from the Southern Methodist University competition last summer.

Putting into practice what they learned, they mailed cards to the football players before each game to wish them luck.

Their skill for arousing enthusiasm was evidenced as they promoted State Week before the playoff game at Lafayette, with each day featuring a special slogan.

Oh! how they did sell buttons and ribbons. Oh! how they did make posters for each game. Oh! how they did encourage attendance for the two victory dances. Oh! how they did practice and yell. With their spirit they boosted spirit!

It is a feat to get twelve feet off the ground at once, but after a yell all six girls leaped simultaneously.

That surprised look on Shirley Grunwald's face indicates that it takes a lot of energy to hold a banner while the Knights come charging through.

Top Lancerette officer, Colonel Mary Richard, had heavy responsibilities, but she retained a pleasant smile. Mary displays the new flag which was carried by the pep squad.

Lancerettes Have "Tour Of Woodlawn"

Are you curious about those spirit boosters of Woodlawn, the 210 Lancerettes? You see them at the football and basketball games; they represent Woodlawn in the State Fair and Holiday-in-Dixie Parades and assist the cheerleaders at pep rallies.

To join the pep squad a girl must maintain a C average, have good moral conduct, gain teacher approval and love Woodlawn enough to really want to shout about it.

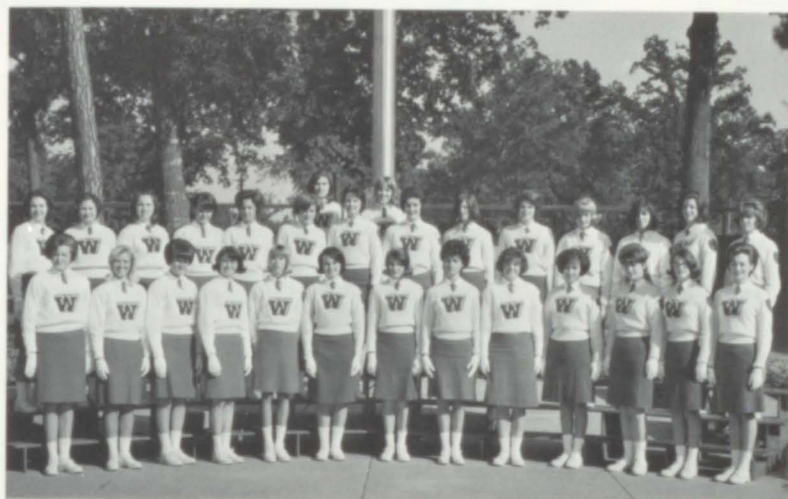

Miss Joyce Jordan, assisted by Miss Pat Bobbitt, manages and advises the Lancerettes—the largest marching unit in the state.

A program of special interest occurred this year at the Woodlawn-Airline game when the Lancerettes led the crowd on a "Tour of Woodlawn." As a press box announcer read appropriate commentary, the pep squad spelled out "bosses" honoring the administrators, formed a hammer for the maintenance staff, made a football for the athletes, built a schoolhouse for the faculty, and wrote "WHS" for the students in a unique marching formation.

Hard-workers all, the pep squad girls operate the basketball concession stands. Valiantly, they vie with the faculty each year in a ball game. This year they collected gifts for the elderly at Christmas. They ended the year with a lavish spring banquet when officers for next year were announced.

Major Shirley Grunwald, Lt. Colonel Cindy Rowland, and Major Janet Thrasher help to see that discipline is maintained by the Lancerettes.

During the half-time performance at the Airline game, the Lancerettes presented a "Tour of Woodlawn." At that time, formations were made for all departments at WHS. The schoolhouse saluted the faculty.

Tremendous is a word someone might use if asked to describe his feelings on seeing hand drills done by 210 pairs of white-gloved hands. These precision movements, led by the officers, contribute gaiety to each pep rally.

Lancerettes Get New Flag This Year

Each yell usually ends with a vigorous waving of the hands as the pep squad screams a loud "yeh-h-h!"

From the look on the Yellow Jacket's face, he knew it was the year of victory for the mighty Knights. "Raid the Jackets" was the theme used at the pep rally and then carried out through the day by everyone.

Co-operation Of Cheerleaders And 210 Lancerettes Spark Pep And School Spirit Throughout The Year

Susie Wright, Sir Knight, and Helen Charping stand prepared to lead the Knights onto the field.

Now each person can tell how a pep rally looks through the eyes of a Lancerette as they peer over a giant sea of waving hands out to the world beyond. The cheerleaders waved pom-poms to create pep.

Janet Thrasher depicts a victorious Knight in a pep assembly skit.

Competition on the field aroused interest, but the excitement increased with the appearance of the band, cheerleaders, and pep squad.

No Woodlawn pep assembly would be complete without the clap, clap, clap of 420 Lancerette hands.

Cheerleaders also know how to climb ladders. Up and down Susie goes as she decorates goalposts.

Girls' PE Teaches Health And Games

Softball, volleyball, basketball, and tennis are healthful games that today's teens seldom find time for but really enjoy. Physical Education takes time for fun but is also an academic course. For a six week period each gym class takes general health or first aid.

Last year, for the first time, badminton was made available to the students. This year the school purchased new ping pong tables, a portable shuffle board, and new records for square dancing, creative dancing and rhythmic exercise; so recreational games and creative dancing were stressed in the classes. Another first was the respiration dummy borrowed from the Red Cross Center; the doll was fondly named Resuscianne by the students.

PE? It's required fun!

An interesting PE course for the senior girls is tap dancing. Taught by Mrs. Plummer, the classes learn the steps and fundamentals of this type of dance.

Use of Resuscianne, borrowed from the Red Cross center, gives the girls first-hand knowledge of how to administer artificial respiration. Mrs. Hervey's student teacher, Miss Kay Wade, discussed the steps involved.

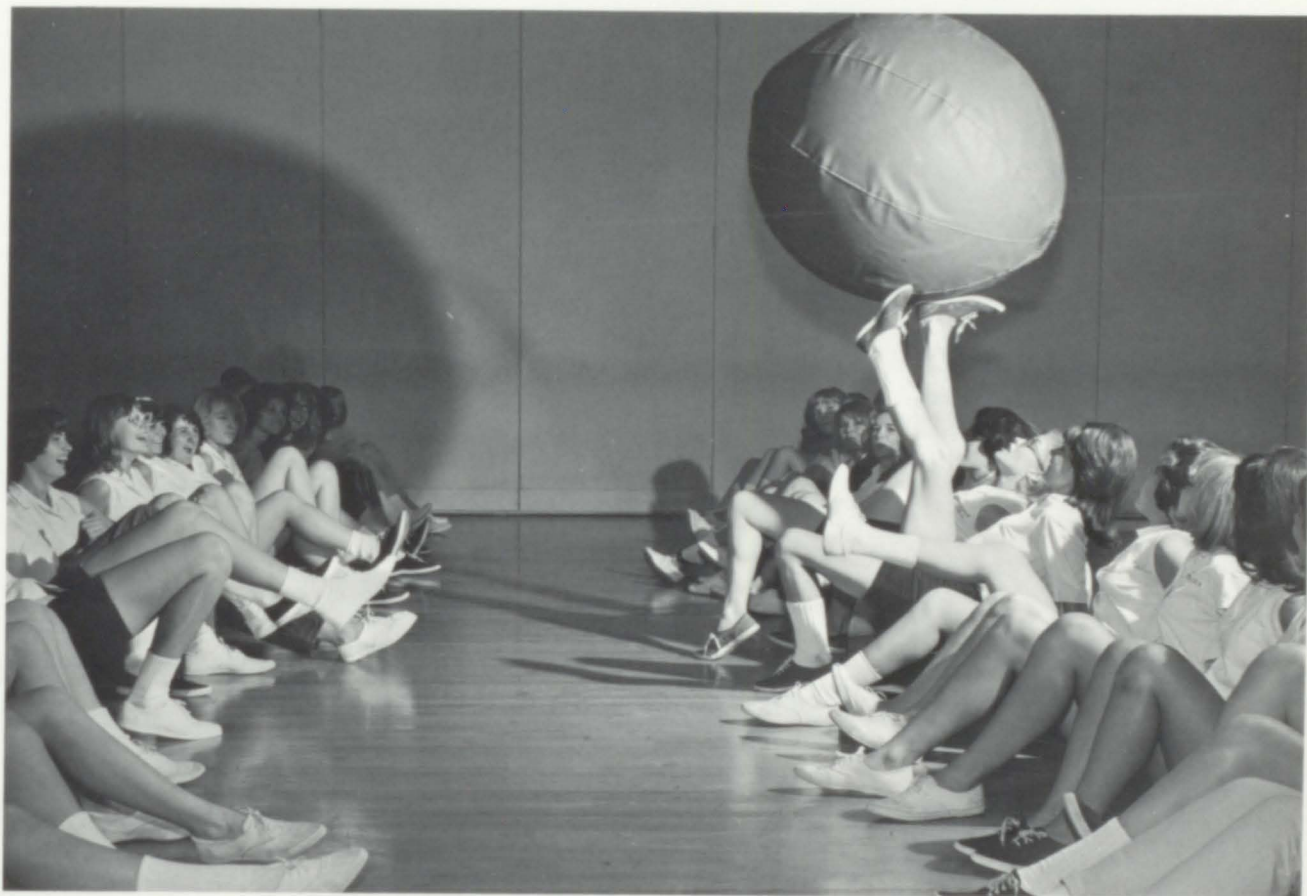

A study of rules and practice on the courts prepared Mrs. Plummer's tennis students for the final skills test. Girls were timed on reaction during a six weeks check.

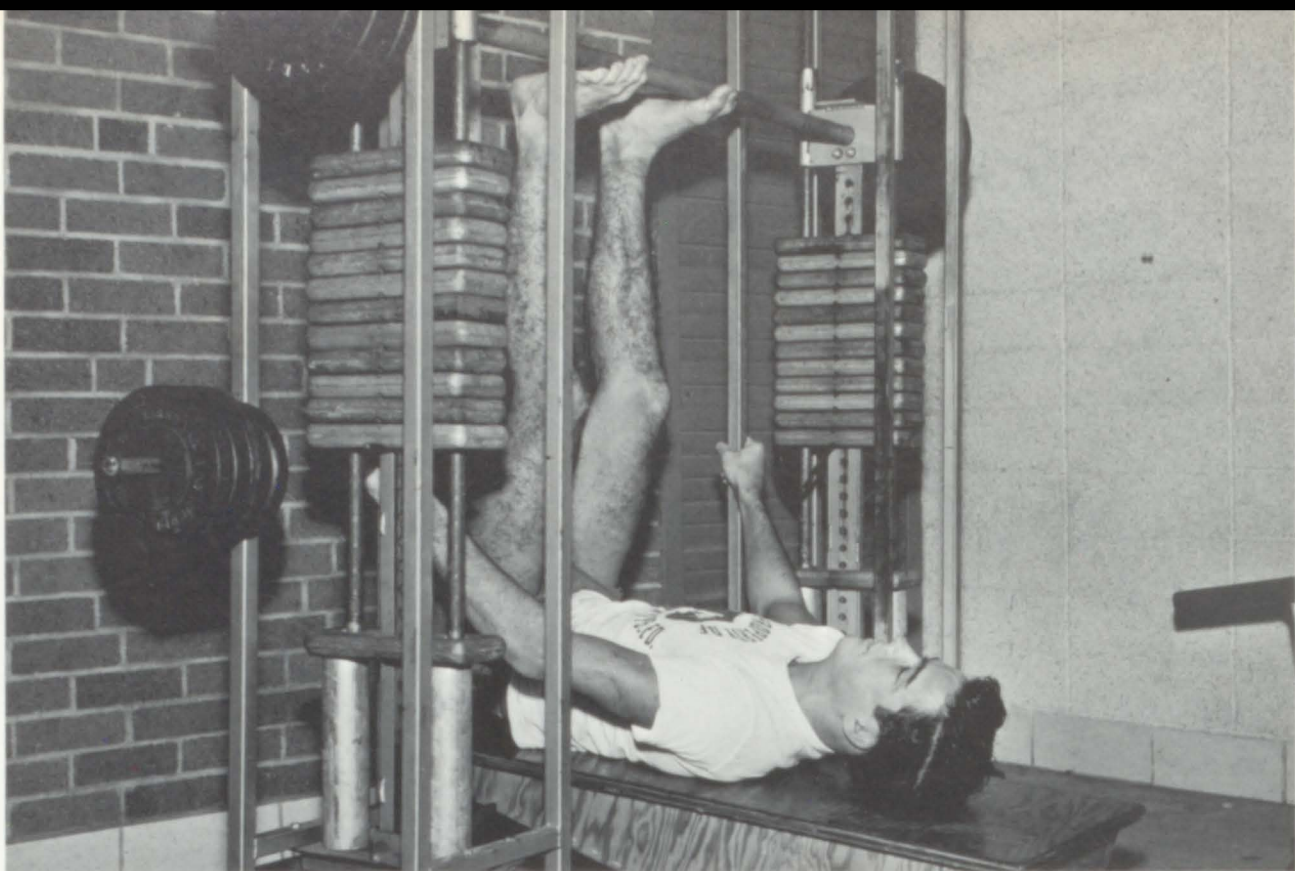

For the fourth year, golf was taught at Woodlawn. Miss Pat Bobbitt's objective in offering golf to her sophomore classes is to stimulate interest and teach the fundamentals of the game.

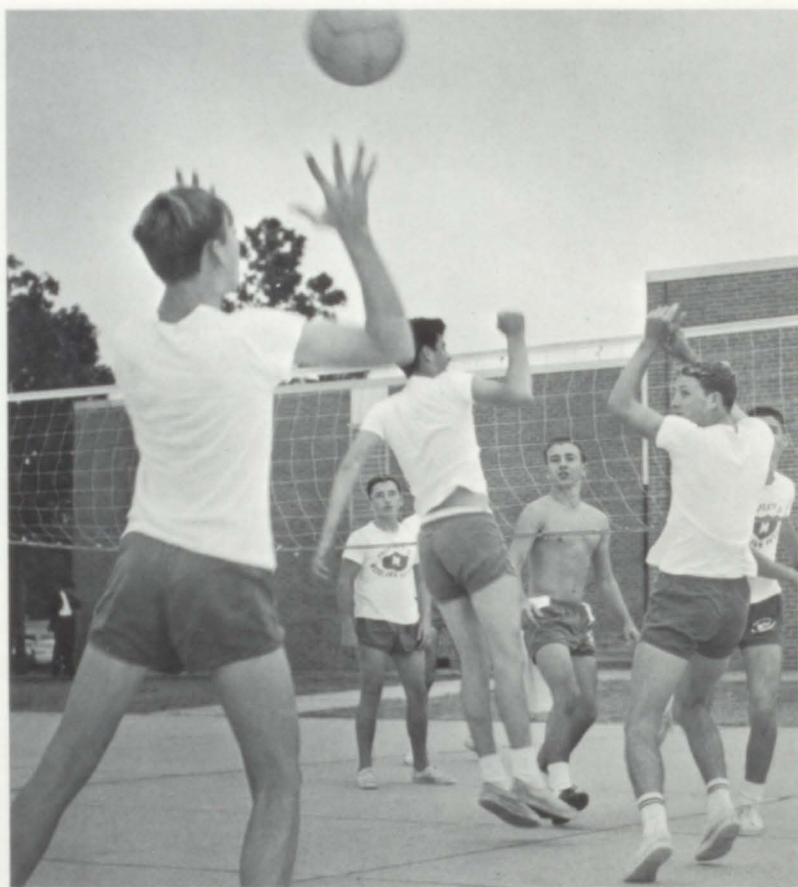

One of the newest gym activities is cage ball, the rainy day game. With such a large ball more girls can play, as the teams line up opposite each other and kick the ball back and forth.

Above: Using the new weight machines, Vernon Tannehill, a member of Coach Calvert's gym class, demonstrated the leg press by lifting 350 pounds.

Right: Volleyball was one of the sports played by student Coach Callen's class. Kenny Launius, in 3rd period, attempts to bat the ball to his opponents.

Proper Attitude Stressed In Boys' PE Classes

Eight men teachers guided the physical education program in the boys' PE department stressing good conduct, attitude, and participation.

Why so many teachers? Because of an increased enrollment another full-time instructor was added, and there were two student teachers—for one semester.

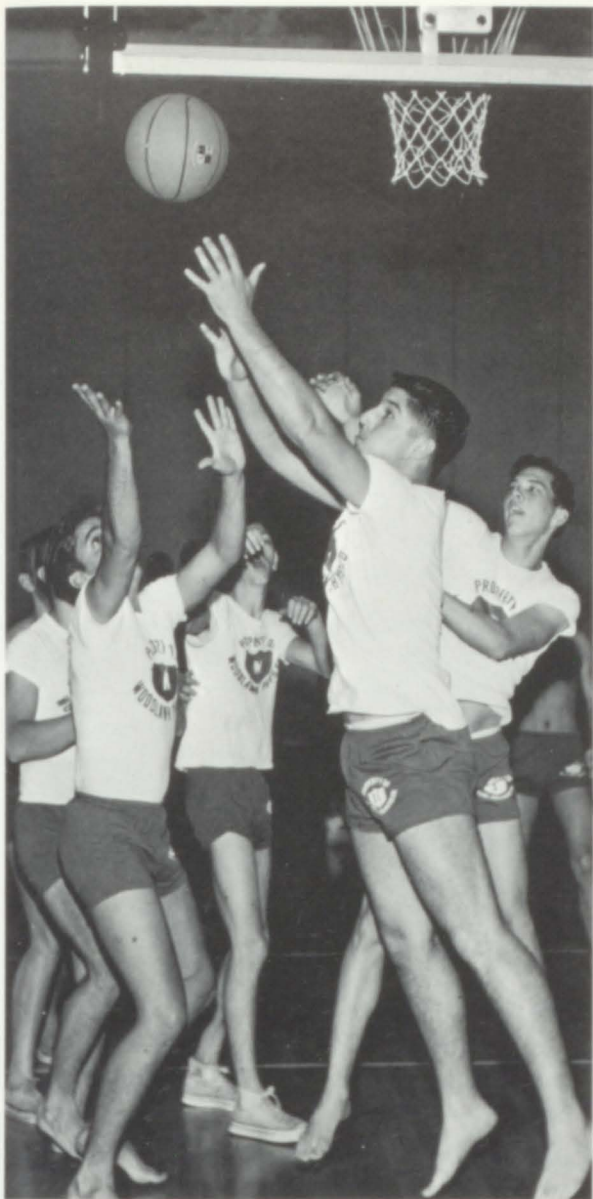

The six instructors planned their program to coincide with the change of seasons. Warmer weather brought touch football, volleyball, basketball, softball, and track into the spotlight. Winter months focused attention on inside recreation such as tumbling, four-square, hand ball, and weight lifting.

In this full credit-per-year course the State Department of Education requires a six weeks study of health.

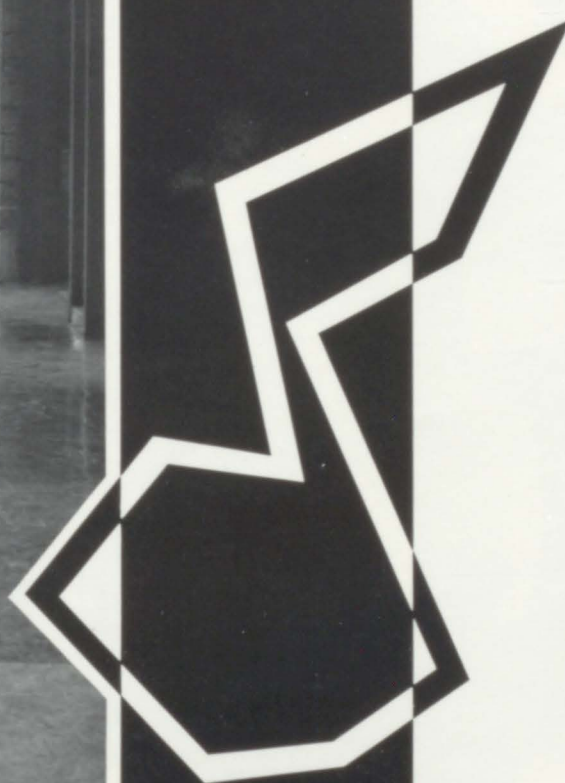

A five dollar rental fee paid by each student provides him with his own locker and lock, weekly laundered uniform, and clean towels daily.

Below: Ronnie Emanuel prepares to hike the ball in Coach Ivy's class. Football occupies most of the time and is the best liked sport in PE.

Mrs. Barden, I have truly enjoyed this year and I am looking forward to next year.
 Your laurels are vast
 And are sure as the dawn
 I will always stay as a great as you are now and everyone will love you - always
 God bless you
 Love,
 Peggy McLean

Seniors Help Decorate Field For Game

Gay streamers fly from the goal posts because the cheerleaders, with the help of several boys, decorate the stadium before each home game. It takes quite a bit of scrambling up and down and all around for Susie Wright (left), Robbie Linn (center), and Marcia Dolin (right) to get the crepe paper taped into place.

Hundreds of nickels and dimes are dropped by the students into the candy machines each day. Jan Journey exchanges her nickel for a candy bar as an added treat after lunch.

Made by the art classes, Woodlawn's gallant Knight is guided by two senior cheerleaders, Jane Cantrell and Helen Charping. He was officially presented at the Homecoming Pep Rally.

Juniors Enjoy Conversations At Lunch

Having a discussion at lunch are David Roach, Lonnie Hopkins, Eddie Marks, Mike Abington, and Billy Piccolo.

Distributive Education affords student Barbara Layton a chance to learn and earn at the same time. She attends classes each morning and works each afternoon as a cashier in a local food store.

Working each afternoon as a checker for a local food store, Ann Burkheart can apply business principles learned each morning in the distributive education classroom at Woodlawn High School.

Dear Mrs. Borden,
I think you're the

And ever ^{after} Woodlawn you're a teacher. You have a way about you that's so happy and happy that you're a joy to be just as kind-hearted and helpful as can be. Being as how Bee H. is my you're doing for her is just what she needs.

I love you very much.

IS BANKING FOR TEENAGERS?

What better way to show others you're growing up . . . than learning to handle your own money?

Our officers will tell you that more and more college and high school students are saving money regularly and keeping business-like records of their personal expenses and they've noticed that young people have a special liking for our Sav-o-Matic plan.

But the thing young people seem to like best is the warm-hearted reception they always get. The folks at Commercial are never too busy to explain the ins and outs of modern banking to our young customers.

If you're a teenager...

... and want to start handling money like an adult ... get acquainted at the Commercial right away.

"CENTENARY, OF COURSE!"

So say Voncille Jennings and Bill Riggs, two well-known former Woodlawn students who have "found a home" at Shreveport's own private, liberal arts college.

They're the latest additions to a long, distinguished line of Woodlawn alumni who have gone on to complete their education at Centenary over the years.

Don't fail to explore the course offerings of Centenary College before you make your decision in a matter that will affect the rest of your life. Contact the admissions office, 861-2431, Extension 343, and talk to Col. Buren S. Folsom about your immediate future. You'll always be glad you did!

ALMA MATER

Hail Alma Mater
Knights so true,
Clothed in scarlet
And royal blue.
Our faith and love
We pledge to thee,
Written high in liberty.
Your laurels are vast
And are sure as the dawn.
We praise thee forever
And ever, Woodlawn

1966 ACCOLADE

Accolade Editor Praises Staff And School

We Praise Thee Forever and Ever Woodlawn . . . We as Pages, Squires, and Knights will ever cherish our memories of Woodlawn.

Lines of our Alma Mater help to recall all the wonderful events of this school year in Knightland. By using our song as a theme, the ACCOLADE Staff has recorded the outstanding things that have made this year a great one. We hope that we have compiled a memory book that will be one of your cherished possessions.

Many people helped to make our book what we believe to be "our best one." We express appreciation to . . . Miss Willa Smith for guidance and the long hours of hard work . . . the superb staff for their sacrifices in time and energy . . . Mr. Jimmy Cobb, Taylor Representative, for his supervision . . .

the Tom Drummonds for their excellent photography . . . Mr. Earl Turner and the faculty for their co-operation . . . the advertisers who purchased ads . . . Mrs. Mickey Pair and the Ad and Circulation staffs . . . Mr. Richard Jennings for the Alma Mater art work on Page 2 . . . Peggy McGraw for the loan of her white horse, and Bobby Waddell for his patience in Knight's armor as the photographer waited for the sun to reach the right height . . . and to each of you for being you—a part of Woodlawn.

As we part, we go our separate ways; but we take the same book of memories. By sharing the same recollections in the 1966 ACCOLADE, we will all . . . Praise Thee Forever and Ever Woodlawn.

We Praise Thee Forever
And Ever, Woodlawn.

To my parent teachers!
 I can truthfully say that I learned something this year as I am standing up in front of the class of my own accord writing this. I enjoyed my reported trips to the Little Theater and the bigger thing, the learn from. Best wishes and lots of luck. God bless you and yours!
